CALIFORNIA FOOTBALL NOTES

● Cal's seven-win turnaround on the field over the last two seasons from a 1-11 record in 2013 to an 8-5 mark in 2015 is tied for the second best in school history behind only the eight-win improvement from a 2-10 mark in 1946 to a 10-1 record in 1948.

● Cal's turnaround off the field has been arguably even more impressive as evidenced by a single-season Academic Progress Rate (APR) score of 997 in the most recent data released by the NCAA on April 20, 2016. After successive one-year scores under 930 in the two years before Dykes arrived on campus, the past three rates for the football program have been 969, 946 and 997 to lift the squad's four-year APR average to 960 – its highest since 2008-09. Cal's 997 APR for the 2014-15 academic year ties for the highest in the Pac-12 and the 19-point jump (941 to 960) in the multi-year rate from the previous report a year prior is the best among the conference's football programs.

● Cal's eight wins in the Golden Bears' third season under Dykes in 2015 marked the school's most victories since 2009. Cal capped the season with a win over Air Force at the Lockheed Martin Armed Forces Bowl with the bowl victory its first postseason win since 2008 in its first bowl appearance since 2011. Only 17 squads since the beginning of Cal football in 1882-83 have won more game than the Bears did in 2015. Cal began the 2015 season with five straight victories to mark the program's best start since the Bears were also 5-0 in 2007. At one point, the Bears were in the national rankings for four consecutive weeks (Weeks 4-7) moving as high as No. 19 in the Amway Coaches Poll and No. 20 in the AP Top 25 in Week 7. Cal's national rankings were its first since 2010 (Coaches Poll) and 2009 (AP Top 25). After ropping four of their next five games to teams that were all ranked in the top 10 at some point in 2015 including top-five foes Oregon and Utah, with four of those five contests on the road, Cal finished strong with three wins in its final four contests over Oregon State, Arizona State and Air Force.

● Sonny Dykes agreed to a contract extension through the 2019 season on December 10, 2015. Dykes was named to the midseason watch list for the 2015 Dodd Trophy, making him one of 20 head coaches on the list who were selected for representing programs with the highest ideals of leadership, scholarship and integrity on and off the field.

● Cal's offense flourished again in 2015, setting numerous records including single-season school marks in passing yardage (4,892), passing yards per game (376.3 ypg), passing touchdowns (44), total offense (6,879), total yards per game (529.2 ypg), total touchdowns (63), first downs (341) and first downs passing (201), as well as a modern-era record for points (493), with all the marks previously set in 2013 or 2014.

● Cal ranked third nationally in passing offense, eighth in total offense and 17th in scoring offense in 2015, with all of the numbers second in the Pac-12.

● Cal was the only team in the nation to have six receivers with 40 or more catches in 2015 – Kenny Lawler (52-658, 13 TD), Darius Powe (47-560, 8 TD), Bryce Treggs (45-956, 7 TD), Stephen Anderson (41-474, 2 TD), Trevor Davis (40-672, 2 TD) and Maurice Harris (40-558, 6 TD). The Bears also had three 500-yard rushers – Khalfani Muhammad (87-586, 1 TD), Vic Enwere (106-505, 8 TD) and Tre Watson (89-504, 3 TD) – to become the first college football team in recorded history to have six players with 40 or more receptions and three 500-yard rushers in the same season.

● Cal also made tremendous improvements on defense in 2015 especially in the turnover numbers, tying for 11th in the nation in fumbles recovered (12), tying for 13th in turnovers gained (27) and tying for 23rd in interceptions (15). Cal was also tied for 25th nationally in defensive touchdowns with three. Cal tied for the Pac-12 lead in fumbles recovered while ranking tied for second in turnovers gained and interceptions.

● Cal's 2015 season was followed by a strong offseason that included Jared Goff becoming only the second player in Cal history to be selected as the No. 1 overall pick in the NFL Draft in April of 2016 as well as the additions of standout offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach Jake Spavital, senior graduate transfer and Mel Kiper's No. 1 senior quarterback for the 2017 NFL Draft in Davis Webb from Texas Tech and the nation's top-ranked wide receiver in the 2016 recruiting class in five-star recruit Demetris Robertson. Webb is on the watch list for the prestigious Maxwell Award honoring the nation's top collegiate player.

The 2015 Cal offense was one of the best in the nation and set numerous records as the Golden Bears won a bowl game for the first time since 2008.

● Cal has four returning starters from 2015 on the offensive line that have started 84 games in their career and made 45 of 65 possible offensive line starts in 2015. Steven Moore (team-high 36 career starts), Chris Borrayo (29) and Dominic Granado (13) each started all 13 games in 2015 while Aaron Cochran made all six of his career starts a year ago.

● Cal also has its top three running backs returning from 2015 in Khalfani Muhammad, Vic Enwere and Tre Watson but will be looking to replace Jared Goff as well as its top six receivers in Kenny Lawler, Darius Powe, Bryce Treggs, Stephen Anderson, Trevor Davis and Maurice Harris.

● Cal has 11 players scheduled to return on defense in 2016 that combined to make 65 starts in 2015 but only five that started six or more contests in cornerback Darius Allensworth (13), safety Damariay Drew (11), defensive tackle James Looney (11), defensive end DeVante Wilson (8) and defensive tackle Tony Mekari (6). Defensive tackle David Davis, linebacker Devante Downs, defensive tackle Marcus Manley, safety Griffin Piatt and safety Luke Rubenzer each started one contest a year ago.

● Cal returns its starting placekicker in Matt Anderson, who took over the job as a 2015 sophomore and responded by leading the team in scoring with 104 points to tie for the third-most in school history, making 18-of-21 field goal attempts to rank tied for third in the Pac-12 and tied for 10th nationally in field goal percentage (85.7%) while adding 50-of-52 PAT tries. He finished the season on a tear by making each of his last 10 field goal attempts and 15 of his final 16. Anderson was also a first-team Pac-12 All-Academic choice as a sophomore and has earned the Golden Bear Achievement Award from the Athletic Study Center at the Student-Athlete Academic Honors Luncheon for being the Cal football player with the highest cumulative GPA for each of his first three seasons at Cal from 2013-15.

● Cal will open the 2016 season in Sydney, Australia, when the Golden Bears play Hawai'i on Saturday, Aug. 27 (Noon Kickoff) in the first college football game of the 2016 campaign at the 83,500-seat ANZ Stadium originally constructed for the 2000 Olympic Games. The contest will be the third ever in Australia and the first since 1987, as well as the first ever in Sydney.

Media covering Cal football should review this section in detail to learn about Cal's policies and services. Additional information can be found online by visiting CalBears.com/media. Please contact a member of the Athletic Communications staff if you have any questions or concerns.

STADIUM LOCATION

Kabam Field at California Memorial Stadium is located along Piedmont Avenue between Bancroft Way and Hearst Avenue on campus in Berkeley. The best way to get to the venue is to plan ahead and consider all transportation options available to you.

BY AUTOMOBILE

For GPS purposes, use 2227 Piedmont Avenue in Berkeley for the address. Media parking is detailed later on this page. More detailed information can also be found on the campus map at visitors.berkeley.edu.

PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION

Public transportation is highly recommended when visiting Berkeley. There are multiple options that lead directly to California Memorial Stadium, including several nearby BART stations. Visit bart.gov, actransit.org or 511.org for more information.

CREDENTIAL REQUESTS

All requests/questions for media, photo and parking credentials for 2016 Cal football home games including the College Football Sydney Cup should be made to Herb Benenson (510-334-0791, benenson@berkeley.edu) in the Cal Athletic Communications Office at 349 Haas Pavilion, University of California, Berkeley, CA 94720. Only media who cover the Bears on a regular basis will be considered for season credentials. A lost season credential will result in that member of the media being moved to the single-game list.

All single-game requests should be made as far in advance as possible to help ensure space availability both in the press box and on the field. Requests for media covering a visiting team for a Cal home game should be made through the opposing school's football media relations contact. Credentials will be available for pick up at Media Will Call located in the third-floor lobby of the Simpson Center for Student-Athlete High Performance just outside Gate 5 on the day of the game unless other arrangements are made.

Media should consult CalBears.com/media for complete media and credential policies.

Both wireless and ethernet connections are available in the press box and field-level photographer work area. Contact a member of the Cal Athletic Communications staff on the day of the game to obtain specific information for access.

MEDIA PARKING

The Underhill Garage located near the corner of Channing Way and College Avenue serves as the football gameday media parking location. Entrances are off either Channing Way or Haste Street, just west of College Avenue. The lot is about four blocks from Kabam Field at California Memorial Stadium. Media can either take the short walk to Media Will Call at Gate 5 or use a media shuttle that begins running three hours before game time. A media shuttle is also available postgame from the pregame dropoff point near Gate 5 to the Underhill Garage.

Parking passes cannot be left at will call on the day of the game and must be picked up or mailed in advance.

TELEVISION/RADIO

THE FLAGSHIP STATION

KGO 810 AM is entering its 44th season as the flagship station of California football in 2016. KGO Radio's 50,000 watts has been carrying the Golden Bears since 1974. Led by play-by-play announcer Joe Starkey, KGO's signal, along with the other affiliates within the Cal IMG Sports Network, provides statewide coverage of Cal football. Each KGO broadcast begins 60 minutes before kickoff. Then after all the action, the 60-minute postgame show hosted by Lee Grosscup and Hal Ramey airs live from FIVE Restaurant inside Hotel Shattuck Plaza in downtown Berkeley and features reaction from the Bears' locker room followed by a breakdown of the game.

IN THE BOOTH

Joe Starkey, the legendary voice of the Golden Bears, is in his 42nd season with the Cal football broadcast team in 2016.

Joe Starkey

Cal's play-by-play voice began his tenure at Cal in 1976 and is perhaps best known for his legendary call of "The Play." The famous five-lateral kickoff return for a touchdown against Stanford in 1982 is part of college football lore with Starkey's emotional "the band is on the field" part of gridiron vernacular.

Starkey has had an array of NFL and NHL positions during his career, including a 20-year stint with the San Francisco 49ers he fulfilled in conjunction with his Cal duties from 1979-2008.

In 2010, Starkey received the Chris Schenkel Award from the National Football Foundation for his distinguished career broadcasting college football.

Mike Pawlawski

He is joined in the booth by analyst and former Cal quarterback Mike Pawlawski, who will be in his fifth season and second stint as part of the Cal football broadcast team in 2016. He has also been a TV football broadcaster since 2000, working for entities such as Comcast SportsNet, FOX and NBC.

Pawlawski led Cal to back-to-back bowl victories as the Bears' starting quarterback in 1990 and 1991, and was the Pac-10's Co-Offensive Player of the Year as a 1991 senior.

Todd McKim

In his 12th season on the broadcast team in 2016 is sideline reporter Todd McKim, who also serves as host of the Inside The Locker Room radio show and the play-by-play voice for the Cal men's basketball radio broadcasts. Before joining Cal, McKim was a long-time television anchor and sports director in Eugene, and was the 2000 Oregon broadcaster of the year.

PAC-12 ENTERPRISES

Pac-12 Enterprises is the content and multi-platform media company for the Pac-12 Conference. Headquartered in San Francisco, Pac-12 Enterprises was created in 2011 to develop and launch the Pac-12 Networks and Pac-12 Digital in 2012, and to control the distribution of the Pac-12 intellectual property rights in sports and other conference initiatives. The Pac-12 Networks are full-time HD linear networks available to video programming operators, dedicated solely to the Pac-12. They consist of a national network and six regional feeds (including Pac-12 Bay Area focusing on Cal and Stanford) that televise hundreds of live sporting events annually and provide 24/7 access to Pac-12 teams and universities. Pac-12 Digital encompasses the digital network, mobile, the university websites, social media and innovative digital initiatives across the company.

INSIDE THE LOCKER ROOM

Inside The Locker Room takes to the air every week from late-August thru late-March or the end of the men's and women's basketball seasons. The one-hour live program will be hosted by Todd McKim and broadcast on Mondays from 7-8 p.m. on KGO 810 AM. Check CalBears.com for the location of each week's show. Head football coach Sonny Dykes will be interviewed regularly throughout the football season, while head men's basketball coach Cuonzo Martin and head women's hoops coach Lindsay Gottlieb will be interviewed during their respective campaigns. Additional guests will include other Cal coaches, current and former student-athletes and Cal Athletics staff members, among others.

SONNY DYKES

Head Coach/Outside Receivers, 4th Season

Sonny Dykes is in his fourth season as the Cal head coach in 2016 after returning the school's football program to national prominence and the postseason during his first three campaigns as the head coach in Berkeley.

The team's seven-win turnaround on the field over the last two seasons from a 1-11 record in 2013 to an 8-5 mark in 2015 is tied for the second best in school history behind only the eight-win improvement from a 2-10 mark in 1946 to a 10-1 record in 1948.

The turnaround off the field has been arguably even more impressive as evidenced by a single-season Academic Progress Rate (APR) score of 997 in the most recent data released by the NCAA on April 20, 2016. After successive one-year scores under 930 in the two years before Dykes arrived on campus, the past three rates for the football program have been 969, 946 and 997 to lift the squad's four-year APR average to 960 – its highest since 2008-09. Cal's 997 APR for the 2014-15 academic year ties for the highest in the Pac-12 and the 19-point jump (941 to 960) in the multi-year rate from the previous report a year prior is the best among the conference's football programs.

In addition, Dykes' program has become one of Cal's most active in the community.

Dykes' success both on and off the field earned him a contract extension through the 2019 season that he agreed to on December 10, 2015.

Cal's eight wins in the Golden Bears' third season under Dykes in 2015 in his 21st campaign as a collegiate football coach marked the school's most victories since 2009. Cal capped the season with a win over Air Force at the Lockheed Martin Armed Forces Bowl with the bowl victory its first postseason win since 2008 in its first bowl appearance since 2011. Only 17 squads since the beginning of Cal football in 1882-83 have won more game than the Bears did in 2015. In addition to serving as the head coach, Dykes coached Cal's outside receivers for the first time after working with the same position group for nearly a decade in previous coaching stops and is planning to do so again in 2016.

Dykes was named to the midseason watch list for the 2015 Dodd Trophy for the Bears' success with the 20 head coaches on the list selected for representing programs with the highest ideals of leadership, scholarship and integrity on and off the field.

Cal began the 2015 season with five straight victories to mark the program's best start since the Bears were also 5-0 in 2007 before dropping four of their next five games to teams that were all ranked in the top 10 at some point in 2015 including top-five foes Oregon and Utah, with four of those five contests on the road. At one point, the Bears were in the national rankings for four consecutive weeks (Weeks 4-7) moving as high as No. 19 in the Amway Coaches Poll and No. 20 in the AP Top 25 in Week 7. Cal's national rankings were its first since 2010 (Coaches Poll) and 2009 (AP Top 25).

But Cal finished strong with three wins in its final four contests over Oregon State, Arizona State and Air Force. The Bears secured their first winning season since 2011 with a dramatic 48-46 victory in the regular-season finale against Arizona State when the Bears rallied from 21 points down for a victory for the first time since 2007 won on the final play of the game. Two weeks earlier, Cal secured bowl eligibility with its sixth victory of the season over Oregon State.

HEAD COACH

Cal's offense flourished again in 2015, setting numerous records including single-season school marks in passing yardage (4,892), passing yards per game (376.3 ypg), passing touchdowns (44), total offense (6,879), total yards per game (529.2 ypg), total touchdowns (63), first downs (341) and first downs passing (201), as well as a modern-era record for points (493), with all the marks previously set in 2013 or 2014.

Cal ranked third nationally in passing offense, eighth in total offense and 17th in scoring offense in 2015, with all of the numbers second in the Pac-12.

Cal also set single-game team records in 2015 with 760 yards of total offense and 36 first downs vs. Oregon State, while tying a modern-era school record with 10 extra-point attempts against Grambling State.

Quarterback Jared Goff set 26 school records during his three seasons and started all 37 of Cal's games at quarterback from 2013-15 including career marks for passing yardage (12,220), touchdown passes (96), total offense (12,086) and completions (977). He also finished his Cal career second on the school's all-time list for passing efficiency (143.95) behind only Aaron Rodgers. He ranks third all-time in Pac-12 history in passing yardage and fourth in passing touchdowns, while he is 26th nationally in passing yards and 27th in passing touchdowns.

In his final campaign at Cal as a 2015 junior before foregoing his final season of collegiate eligibility to declare for the 2016 NFL Draft, Goff broke a pair of Pac-12 single-season records when he passed for 4,719 yards and 43 touchdowns. Goff led the Pac-12 and ranked third in the nation as a junior in both passing touchdowns and passing yards. He was also second both nationally and in the conference in passing yards per game (363.0) among 10 categories in which he ranked among the top three in the conference and top 20 nationally.

Goff was the first Cal quarterback to earn first-team All-Pac-12 honors since Rodgers in 2004, a semifinalist for the Davey O'Brien National Quarterback Award and Cal's Most Outstanding Player in a Lockheed Martin Armed Forces Bowl victory over Air Force when he set the bowl's single-game records by passing for 467 yards and six touchdowns in his final collegiate contest. He was ranked as high as No. 3 on the USA Today Heisman Hot List and tied for No. 6 on ESPN's Heisman Watch after the team's 5-0 start.

Cal was the only team in the nation to have six receivers with 40 or more catches in 2015 – Kenny Lawler (52-658, 13 TD), Darius Powe (47-560, 8 TD), Bryce Treggs (45-956, 7 TD), Stephen Anderson (41-474, 2 TD), Trevor Davis (40-672, 2 TD) and Maurice Harris (40-558, 6 TD). The Bears also had three 500-yard rushers – Khalfani Muhammad (87-586, 1 TD), Vic Enwere (106-505, 8 TD) and Tre Watson (89-504, 3 TD) – to become the first college football team in recorded history to have six players with 40 or more receptions and three 500-yard rushers in the same season.

Cal also made tremendous improvements on defense in 2015 especially in the turnover numbers, tying for 11th in the nation in fumbles recovered (12), tying for 13th in turnovers gained (27) and tying for 23rd in interceptions (15). Cal was also tied for 25th nationally in defensive touchdowns with three. Cal tied for the Pac-12 lead in fumbles recovered while ranking tied for second in turnovers gained and interceptions.

Cal's 2015 season was followed by a strong offseason that included Goff becoming only the second player in Cal history to be selected as the No. 1 overall pick in the NFL Draft in April of 2016 as well as the additions of standout offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach Jake Spavital, senior graduate transfer quarterback Davis Webb from Texas Tech and the nation's top-ranked receiver in the 2016 recruiting class in five-star wide receiver Demetris Robertson.

"Coach Dykes helped me a lot in my three years at Cal both on and off the field. He was always asking myself and the other captains what was best for the team and really truly cared about every one of us. I wouldn't be where I am today with Coach Dykes."

– 2016 NFL Draft No. 1 Pick QB Jared Goff

There was already a tremendous amount of optimism at Cal heading into the 2015 season after the Bears' four-win improvement in 2014 that was the best turnaround for the program since 2002 and left the Bears one victory shy of playing in its first bowl game since 2011.

Cal finished the 2014 season with a 5-7 overall record and a 3-6 mark in conference action to place fourth in the Pac-12 North for its highest showing since the 2011 team was also fourth. Cal won four of its first five games beginning with back-to-back victories at Northwestern and against Sacramento State. After a heartbreaking loss on a Hail Mary on the final play of the game in its Pac-12 opener at Arizona, the Bears recovered by scoring a combined 119 points in back-to-back thrilling and record-setting victories over Colorado (in double overtime) and at Washington State. Cal's 4-1 start and a 2-1 Pac-12 record put the Bears in first place (Pac-12 North) three games into the league schedule for the first time since 2006. Cal picked up its fifth and final win of the campaign at Oregon State.

The Bears set or equaled nine single-season school or modern-era school records on the offensive side of the ball in 2014. Cal established single-season records for passing yards (4,152), passing touchdowns (37), total yards per game (495.2 ypg) and first downs passing (188), as well modern-era school records for points (459), scoring average (38.2 ppg) and touchdowns (61) that were all that were broken in 2015 and now rank third all-time also behind the 1920 team (510 points, 56.7 ppg, 72 touchdowns). Cal also tied modern-era records for PAT (56) and PAT attempts (57). In addition, the Bears became the first Cal team in the modern era to score 55 or more points in a game three times including 40 or more on five occasions and 30 or more 10 times.

Cal ranked in the top 25 nationally in a total of seven offensive categories in 2014 including passing offense (6th, 346.0 ypg), scoring offense (10th, 38.3 ppg), total offense (13th, 495.2 ypg), fourth-down conversion percentage (14th, 67.9%, 19-28), first downs offense (19th, 319), third-down conversions (23rd, 46.1%) and team passing efficiency (24th, 145.77).

Goff set 15 single-season, single-game or single-play school records in 2014 that were broken in 2015 including passing yards (3,973), passing touchdowns (35), touchdowns responsible for (35), total offense (3,929) and 300-yard passing games (7), while his consecutive 300-yard passing games (6) and most consecutive passes without an interception (185) marks from 2014 remain school records. Goff completed 316-of-509 passes (62.1%) with seven interceptions for a 147.59 passer efficiency rating that was the fifth-best single-season mark in school history.

Goff also ranked among the nation's top 10 in six individual categories in 2014 including passing touchdowns (5th), passing yards (5th), passing yards per game (5th, 331.1 ypg), completions per game (5th, 26.33 cpg), total offense (8th, 327.4 ypg) and points responsible for per game (9th, 18.0 ppg).

Cal was able to achieve all of this in 2014 with 42 players seeing action for the first time in their Cal career including 23 freshmen with 11 of those true freshmen. The Bears also used 19 other players for the first time in their Cal career.

Despite being an inexperienced unit that was the nation's second-youngest to start the season and battling injuries that caused players on the preseason depth chart to miss 138 games, Cal still set school records in 2013 for single-season passing yards (3,977), pass completions (368) and total plays (1,046), with the

"A big thing for me about Sonny is that he is family-oriented. He brings his family around and has the other coaches do the same. It makes everyone more comfortable."

"Coach Dykes is a players' coach. He always has our best interests at heart. It's not all about football. He cares about us off field as well. He wants us to succeed in life and always asks me how my wife and daughter are doing, and if there is anything they can do to help us out. I appreciate that and it shows me he cares."

passing yards mark being broken in 2014. The passing offense finished third in the Pac-12 and 10th in the nation with an average of 331.4 yards per game that was also the best in school history before being surpassed in both 2014 and 2015. Cal's 5,443 yards of total offense in 2013 is the fifth-highest total in school history and its average of 453.6 yards per game ranks sixth.

As a true freshman in 2013, Goff started all 12 games and became the first true freshman quarterback in school history to start a season-opener. Goff set school records in passing yardage (3,508), total offense (3,446), completions (320), pass attempts (531) and total plays (590) in his first season as the Bears' signal caller before later breaking passing yardage, total offense and completion marks.

In his final season as a junior at Cal in 2015 before foregoing his final season of collegiate eligibility to declare for the 2016 NFL Draft, Lawler became the school's first wide receiver to earn first-team All-Pac-12 honors since Keenan Allen in 2011. He recorded a career-high 13 touchdown catches to lead the team while ranking second in the Pac-12 and tied for eighth nationally. The 13 touchdown grabs also ranked tied for second on Cal's all-time single-season list behind only the school-record 14 registered by Sean Dawkins in 1992. Lawler finished with 52 receptions as a junior to lead the squad for the second straight season and totaled 658 yards receiving, while finishing his career tied for second on Cal's all-time list touchdown receptions and tied for 12th in the Pac-12 with 27 scoring grabs among 143 catches for 1,706 yards receiving over 35 games and 19 starts. He also had at least one catch in 34 of his 35 career games.

Treggs finished his career fourth all-time at Cal with 195 receptions, fifth with 2,506 yards receiving and 10th with 15 touchdown catches after catching 45 passes for a career-high 956 yards to go with a career-best seven touchdown receptions in 2015. Treggs had at least one reception in 45 of the 46 games he played in at Cal including each of the last 39 to fall three short of Robert Jordan's school-record 42.

Dykes came to Cal after spending three seasons at Louisiana Tech where he directed an offense that led the nation in both scoring offense (51.50 ppg) and total offense (577.92 ypg) during his final campaign at the helm in 2012. He spent three seasons as head coach for the Bulldogs, compiling a 22-15 overall record and winning 16 of 17 regular-season games during one stretch over the 2011 and 2012 schedules.

Dykes also engineered a turnaround for a Louisiana Tech program that improved all three seasons under his leadership as his Cal's teams have also done. The Bulldogs were 4-8 the year before he arrived in 2009, then proceeded to finish 5-7, 8-5 and 9-3 in successive campaigns. In 2011, Louisiana Tech started 1-4 before winning seven consecutive games to capture the Western Athletic Conference title – the team's first league championship in a decade – and a berth in the Poinsettia Bowl. Dykes was named the WAC Coach of the Year.

Dykes' 2012 Louisiana Tech team had road victories over FBS opponents Illinois (52-24), Houston (56-49) and Virginia (44-28). The Bulldogs also lost a narrow 59-57 decision to a Texas A&M team that later defeated top-ranked Alabama and earned a spot in the Cotton Bowl. Louisiana Tech reached as high as No. 18 in the national polls according to USA Today and was No. 19 in the AP Top 25 after jumping out to a 9-1 start.

Dykes' high-energy style of offense produced a prolific unit that in addition to leading the nation in both scoring offense and total offense in 2012 produced the fifth-highest per-game scoring average ever by a team in the Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS). The squad also finished among the NCAA's top 20 in passing offense (3rd, 350.75 ypg), sacks allowed (7th, 0.83 per game), turnover margin (10th, +1.08 per game) and rushing offense (17th, 227.17 ypg). The Bulldogs scored more than 40 points in 11 of 12 games and over 50 points on eight occasions.

Quarterback Colby Cameron was named the 2012 WAC Offensive Player of the Year and earned the Sammy Baugh Award presented to college football's top passer by The Touchdown Club of Columbus.

Dykes, the son of former longtime Texas Tech coach Spike Dykes, boasts a resume that includes additional stops in the Pac-12, Big 12 and SEC, where he served under head coaches Mike Stoops (Arizona), Mike Leach (Texas Tech) and Hal Mumme (Kentucky).

As offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Arizona for three seasons from 2007-09, Dykes helped the Wildcats to the 2008 Las Vegas Bowl and 2009 Holiday Bowl after Arizona had not reached the postseason for 10 years. Arizona posted marks of 8-5 both seasons and tied for second in what was then the Pac-10 in 2009 with a 6-3 league mark.

Under his direction, Arizona offenses established five single-season records. The Wildcats ranked 10th nationally in passing yards in 2007 (308.50 ypg), as well as 16th in scoring (36.62 ppg) and 33rd in total offense in 2008 (402.38 ypg).

Prior to his tenure at Arizona, Dykes spent seven seasons at his alma mater Texas Tech, serving as receivers coach from 2000-04 and adding the title of co-offensive coordinator from 2005-06. The Red Raiders made seven straight postseason appearances and won 56 games during the span, including four postseason victories over his last five seasons in the Tangerine, Houston, Holiday and Insight bowls. In 2006, Dykes received the Mike Campbell Top Assistant Coach Award from the American Football Coaches Association, the same year he was recognized as one of the top 25 recruiters in the country by Rivals.

Dykes began his collegiate coaching career with a two-year stint from 1995-96 at Navarro College in Corsicana, Texas. He also was a baseball assistant at Monahans High School in Texas in 1994 and a football assistant at Pearce High School outside Dallas in 1995.

Born in Big Springs, Texas, Dykes received his bachelor's degree in history from Texas Tech in 1993 and was a member of the Red Raider baseball team for two seasons. He is married to the former Kate Golding and they have two daughters, Alta (Ally) and Charlotte (Charlie).

ASSISTANT COACHES

ART KAUFMAN

Defensive Coordinator/Linebackers, 3rd Season

Art Kaufman is in his third season as the defensive coordinator at Cal and in his first campaign working directly with the Golden Bears' linebackers in 2016 in his 35th season as a collegiate coach and 18th as a defensive coordinator.

"Art is one of the best defensive coordinators around college football," head coach Sonny Dykes said. "He's been successful everywhere he's been and he certainly has improved our defense. We have gotten better each year defensively under Art and with him returning for his third season this year I would expect this group to do the same thing. Having consistency in your program at defensive coordinator is so important. Art is very experienced and has a great gameday demeanor. The players really appreciate his experience and work ethic."

"Art now has the opportunity to work directly with a position group that he has coached successfully for most of his career," Dykes added about Kaufman taking over direct responsibility for working with the team's linebackers.

Kaufman's defense made significant improvements in his second campaign in Berkeley to help the Bears to an 8-5 record, giving Cal its first eight-win season since the 2009 team was also 8-5 with only 29 teams since the beginning of Cal football in 1882-83 winning eight or more and only 17 either nine or 10. Cal capped its 2015 season with its first bowl victory since 2008 in the Lockheed Martin Armed Forces Bowl with the spot in postseason play its first since 2011.

Much of Cal's improvement in 2015 was because the Bears' defense continued to improve at a rapid rate, allowing 9.1 less points per game than the previous season and 15.8 points fewer than the 2013 campaign before Kaufman arrived in January of 2014.

Cal was one of the nation's top teams in categories related to caused turnovers during the 2015 season as the Golden Bears finished the campaign tied for 11th nationally in fumbles recovered (12), tied for 13th in turnovers gained (27), tied for 23rd in passes intercepted (15) and tied for 25th in defensive touchdowns (3). Cal tied for first in the Pac-12 in fumbles recovered, tied for second in turnovers gained and passes intercepted, and tied for fourth in defensive touchdowns. All of the 2015 numbers and rankings were improvements from the previous season.

Cal also put up significantly better numbers in 2015 from the previous season in sacks (2015 – 28, 2.15 spg; 2014 – 1.33 spg), team passing efficiency defense (2015 – 135.49; 2014 – 154.54), tackles for loss (2015 – 62.0, 5.2 tflpg; 2014 – 55.0, 4.6 tflpg), total defense (2015 – 453.7; 2014 – 511.8) and scoring defense (30.7 ppg, 39.8 ppg).

Kaufman coached three honorable mention All-Pac-12 selections that each started all 13 games in 2015 in senior defensive end Kyle Kragen, senior safety Stefan McClure and junior linebacker Hardy Nickerson, with Kragen and McClure signing undrafted free agent contracts with the Indianapolis Colts and Denver Broncos following the season.

Kragen capped his collegiate career with a huge 2015 senior season as he led Cal with career highs in tackles for loss (8.0, -43 yards), sacks (7.0, -36 yards) and quarterback hurries (6) while sharing the team lead with his first two career forced fumbles and adding his first career fumble recovery. In addition to being an honorable mention All-Pac-12 choice of the league's coaches, Kragen earned third-team All-Pac-12 honors from Phil Steele. He was also added to the midseason watch list for the Ted Hendricks Award honoring the nation's top defensive end.

McClure, the only three-time team captain in school history, recovered from a series of injuries that caused him to miss 25 of 49 possible games including the entire 2012 campaign over his first four seasons to post career highs of 61 tackles and 3.5 tackles for loss (-14 yards) and his first career sack (-9 yards) as a 2015 senior, as well as his third career fumble recovery that he returned 45 yards for his first career touchdown against Washington State and three pass breakups. McClure earned honorable mention All-Pac-12 honors from the league's coaches for the first time in his career and was selected as the winner of Cal's prestigious Joe Roth Award honoring the player who best exemplifies courage, sportsmanship and attitude. He was also named the Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Week for his performance against Washington State, was on the Wuerffel Trophy watch list, and was Cal's nominee for the Allstate AFCA Good Works Team®.

Nickerson was named Cal's Defensive MVP after he recorded 112 tackles as a 2015 junior to become the program's first player to record 100 or more stops in a single-season since Mychal Kendricks registered 107 in 2011 and

"Coach Kaufman brings out everyone's best, which makes him a good coordinator. He will make sure you reach your full potential, and that has helped me out a lot."

– Junior CB Darius Allensworth

"Coach Kaufman has done a fantastic job helping our defense improve. He is always preaching for us to just do our job. We are getting much better at doing that and working together as a unit, and that will be the key to being successful this season."

– Junior DT James Looney

"Coach Kaufman is very hands on with each position on the defense. He challenges his players to the get the best of us and is a great motivator."

– Senior DE DeVante Wilson

the most since Mike Mohamed also had 112 in 2009. He ranked third in the Pac-12 in total tackles as well as fourth in the league and 48th nationally with 8.6 stops per game.

The improvements in Kaufman's first season at Cal in 2014 were highlighted by a jump of 48 spots and 44 yards per game in rush defense to No. 38 nationally (144.6 ypg). The 2014 defense also shaved 6.1 points per game off the total number of points allowed and finished 35 spots higher nationally in red zone defense.

"Art had a tremendous influence on our football program right from the beginning," Dykes said. "His extensive experience as a defensive coordinator made everybody comfortable. He is a great communicator who has a detailed and organized plan on teaching and implementing a defense and a clear vision of what he wants. I am excited to see our defense continue to get better and better down the road, and I feel confident in Art's abilities to lead our defense."

Kaufman has developed some of the top defenses in the country over his first 34 seasons as a collegiate coach and 17 campaigns as a defensive coordinator having previously served in the role at the NCAA Football Bowl Subdivision level at Cincinnati, North Carolina, Mississippi and Texas Tech. Kaufman was nominated for the prestigious Broyles Award given annually to college football's top assistant coach both at North Carolina in 2011 and Texas Tech in 2012.

Kaufman was the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at Cincinnati in 2013 when the Bearcats finished 9-4 overall and played in the Belk Bowl. Kaufman's 2013 defense was one of the best in the country, ranking in the top 10 nationally in both rushing defense (6th, 104.5 ypg) and total defense (9th, 315.6 ypg). Cincinnati was also among the top 30 in 10 of the 11 primary defensive categories tracked in the national stats, including 14th in scoring defense (21.0 ppg), third-down conversion percentage defense (33.1%) and first downs defense (230); 23rd in sacks (2.69 spg) and red-zone defense (76.5%); 25th in team passing efficiency defense (116.75); 26th in tackles for loss (6.80 tflpg); and 29th in passing yards allowed (211.2 ypg).

At Cincinnati he coached first-team All-American Athletic Conference defensive lineman Jordan Stepp in the inaugural season of the league while three Bearcats – defensive lineman Silverberry Mouhon, linebacker Greg Blair and cornerback Deven Drane – were second-team selections on the defensive side of the ball. Blair led the squad with 106 tackles, while Mouhon (9.5 spg) and Stepp (6.0 spg) were first and second on the club in sacks.

The performance of Kaufman's defense during his single season in Cincinnati came on the heels of a 2012 campaign in which he led a complete overhaul of the Texas Tech defense. Inheriting a 2011 unit that ranked 114th nationally in total defense (485.58 ypg), the Red Raiders improved to 38th (367.31 ypg) while ranking second in the Big 12 Conference. Texas Tech was keyed by a pass defense that led the league and ranked 15th in the country (192.00 ypg). The Red Raiders finished 8-5 overall and were victorious at the Meineke Car Care Bowl.

Texas Tech defensive lineman Kerry Hyder along with defensive backs Cody Davis and D.J. Johnson were named second-team All-Big 12 in 2012 while Davis was also a first-team Capital One Academic All-America® selection and one of 15 finalists for the prestigious William B. Campbell Trophy also known as the "Academic Heisman". Davis led the team in tackles (101) and interceptions (3), including one that he returned 88 yards for a touchdown, while adding seven pass breakups and 3.5 tackles for loss. Johnson was second on the squad with 90 stops while Hyder finished third with 56 tackles, a team-leading 14.0 tackles for loss and a team co-leading 6.0 sacks. He tallied 10.5 tackles for loss during Big 12 play to rank third in the league.

Kaufman joined the Red Raiders from North Carolina, where he was the defensive coordinator for the Tar Heels in 2011 and the linebackers coach for three campaigns from 2009-11. Kaufman helped guide the 2011 Tar Heels to a No. 27 national ranking in rush defense (123.92 ypg), a No. 48 ranking in total defense (365.23 ypg) and an appearance against Missouri in the Independence Bowl.

North Carolina developed several outstanding linebackers under Kaufman's guidance, including current NFL players Zach Brown (Buffalo), Bruce Carter (New York Jets) and Kevin Reddick (Buffalo).

Brown posted strong numbers in his final season in 2011 to earn first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors when he paced the Tar Heels with 105 tackles and co-led the squad with three interceptions and three pass breakups, while adding 13.5 tackles for loss and 5.5 sacks. Defensive tackle Quinton Coples also picked up first-team All-ACC honors for the second consecutive season and was selected by the New York Jets in the first round of the 2012 NFL Draft with the 16th selection overall. Coples is currently a member of the Los Angeles Rams.

Reddick (74) and Brown (72) were North Carolina's top two tacklers in 2010, with Brown adding three interceptions that he ran back for 113 yards. Despite injuries to Carter and linebacker Quan Sturdivant, a sixth-round pick of the Arizona Cardinals in the 2011 NFL Draft, the Tar Heels finished fourth in the ACC and 30th in the country in total defense (338.54 ypg) led by a rushing defense that was fourth in the league and 22nd nationally (125.62 ypg).

North Carolina's linebackers helped lead a unit that finished first in the ACC and sixth in the nation in total defense (269.62 ypg) on the team's way to an 8-5 record and a spot in the Meineke Car Care Bowl in 2009. The Tar Heels were 10th in the country against the run (95.62 ypg) and 13th in scoring defense (17.08 ppg), ranking first and second in the conference. Carolina was the only team in the country to finish among the top 15 in total defense, rushing defense, third-down efficiency (3rd, 29.4%), tackles for loss (6th, 8.08 tflpg), pass defense (14th, 174.0 ypg) and pass efficiency defense (14th, 105.32). Sturdivant earned first-team All-ACC honors after leading the Tar Heels with 79 stops, while Carter was a second-team all-conference pick.

Prior to his three-year run at North Carolina, Kaufman spent one season coaching the defensive line and special teams at Southern Miss (2008), three coaching linebackers at Middle Tennessee (2005-07), two as the defensive line coach at East Carolina (2003-04), and two as the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at Arkansas Tech (2001-02).

Kaufman coached 10 of the previous 13 seasons over two stints at Mississippi, starting in 1988 with a four-year run working with the defensive ends and linebackers before returning to Ole Miss for six campaigns from 1995-2000 as the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach. In between his two stints at Mississippi he spent three seasons at Louisiana Tech (1992-94). He also coached five seasons at Northwestern State (1983-87). He broke into the coaching profession as a graduate assistant at Delta State in 1982 after receiving his bachelor's degree from the University of Arkansas at Monticello in 1980, where he was a four-year starting linebacker during his collegiate playing days with the Boll Weevils.

A native of Dermott, Ark., Kaufman has three daughters: Tara, Taylor and Madison.

ASSISTANT COACHES

JAKE SPAVITAL

Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks, 1st Season

Jake Spavital is in his first season as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Cal in 2016 after spending the last three campaigns at Texas A&M. Spavital was in the same role with the Aggies for the past two seasons after being promoted to the position from co-offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach prior to Texas A&M's 2013 bowl appearance.

"It's great to have Jake on our coaching staff," head coach Sonny Dykes said. "He's an outstanding communicator, very creative and brings a fresh approach. The biggest thing is that our players have accepted him and are comfortable with him, his philosophy and his coaching style. They like what we're doing schematically and what we're doing from a practice standpoint, and they are excited to play for him. He is also a fantastic recruiter who really identifies with players and recruits."

"Jake is one of the brightest young coaches in college football and a tremendous addition to our coaching staff," Dykes added. "We were looking for someone to join our coaching family that shares our vision and has a similar offensive philosophy to what we have used to produce some of the nation's top offenses for nearly two decades. Jake has gained a tremendous amount of experience by working with some of the top coaches in the game, while he has tutored some of the best quarterbacks in college football history. Both are already paying huge dividends for us."

"It is a tremendous honor to join the Cal coaching staff as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach," Spavital said after the announcement of his hiring on February 11, 2016. "The turnaround this program has enjoyed the past three seasons under the leadership of Sonny Dykes is phenomenal. I am excited to become a part of the staff and help take this program to new heights. I'm looking forward to building on the great foundation that has been established. I think this will be an excellent fit and I can't wait to get started."

Spavital made an immediate impact during his first spring at Cal in 2016 when he began the process of replacing Jared Goff after the record-setting quarterback passed up his final season of collegiate eligibility and became the second-player in Cal history to be selected as the No. 1 overall pick in the NFL Draft in April.

Spavital installed a high-tempo offense that was widely recognized to be run at a significantly faster pace than the record-setting and already fast-paced offense employed by Dykes and former offensive coordinator Tony Franklin the past three seasons.

Spavital's quarterbacks adjusted quickly as evidenced by their performance in Cal's spring game when they combined to complete 49-of-70 passes for 610 yards with seven touchdowns and one interception.

Spavital's high-tempo offense also allowed all five quarterbacks on the roster to get significant reps throughout the spring to help cut the quintet was down to the trio of Ross Bowers, Chase Forrest and Max Gilliam vying for the starting job in the fall, along with graduate transfer Davis Webb and incoming true freshman Victor Viramontes.

Webb was a highly-coveted graduate transfer from Texas Tech that Spavital connected with during the recruiting process and on an official visit to Cal during spring ball. He graduated from Texas Tech in May of 2016 after three seasons with the Red Raiders in which he threw for 5,557 yards and two touchdowns over 23 games played and 14 starts.

Spavital also begin implementing high-tech virtual reality video of the team's spring practices into his quarterbacks' regimen, allowing the Cal signal callers

ASSISTANT COACHES

"Jake is a great coach because he instills confidence in you no matter what situation. He knows the game inside and out but tries to learn more every day."

– Sophomore QB Ross Bowers

"Coach Spavital is great because he loves the game of football just as much as we do. His dedication and work ethic to consistently improve and make the team better inspires us to work hard. He is the definition of a great players' coach and is always available to talk to no matter what the situation."

– Sophomore QB Chase Forrest

"I respect his work ethic, communication abilities and his drive to be a great offensive coordinator. He is the type of coach that every player wants to play for. I can't wait to continue my senior year under his leadership."

– Senior QB Davis Webb

to dissect nearly every facet of the offense and take additional reps when not on the field.

Spavital, who has been a member of bowl staffs in each of his first eight seasons as a college football coach, has worked for head coaches Kevin Sumlin at Texas A&M, Dana Holgorsen at West Virginia and Mike Gundy at Oklahoma State. He was also on staffs with Kliff Kingsbury when the Texas Tech head coach was the quarterbacks coach at Houston and Gus Malzahn when the Auburn head coach was the co-offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Tulsa.

Spavital has coached a series of record-setting college quarterbacks who have played in the NFL including 2012 Heisman Trophy winner Johnny Manziel (Texas A&M), Case Keenum (Houston), Geno Smith (West Virginia) and Brandon Weeden (Oklahoma State). Weeden and Manziel were both first-round picks of the Cleveland Browns in 2012 and 2014, respectively, while Smith was a second-round choice of the New York Jets in 2013. Keenum is the all-time passing leader in college football history in several categories including passing yards (19,217) and passing touchdowns (155). He signed with the Houston Texans as an undrafted free agent in 2013 and is now a member of the Los Angeles Rams.

In addition to building a strong reputation for working with top quarterbacks, Spavital is well-known for his ability to recruit top-notch talent including five-star quarterbacks Kyle Allen and Kyler Murray as well as five-star wide receiver Christian Kirk at Texas Tech, and most recently Webb at Cal.

"We wanted to hire someone that has worked with the best coaches in the country, tutored the top quarterbacks and recruited the elite players, and Jake fit the bill perfectly," Dykes said. "He also has a tremendous amount of knowledge of our offensive system, and we anticipate that he will take the basic concepts of what we've been doing for the past two decades and use his knowledge to incorporate new ideas that will make it even better."

Texas A&M was 25-14 during Spavital's three-year stint with the Aggies including an 8-5 mark in his final campaign in 2015 that matched the previous season when in his first full campaign as the offensive coordinator and play-caller he oversaw the quarterback transition from Manziel to a pair of first-time starters at quarterback in Allen and Kenny Hill. Despite the inexperienced signal-callers, the Aggies led the Southeastern Conference and ranked among the nation's leaders in passing touchdowns (39, No. 7T NCAA) and passing offense (305.5 ypg, No. 12 NCAA). Spavital served as the Aggies' co-offensive coordinator for the 2013 regular season before being promoted to offensive coordinator prior to the Chick-fil-A Bowl. In his debut game as the play-caller, the Aggies gained 541 yards of total offense and rallied from 21 points down to beat Duke, 52-48, in the largest comeback in school history. The Aggies set single-season SEC and school records with 4,593 passing yards and had 6,999 total yards of offense to rank second in SEC and Texas A&M history, while checking in at fourth nationally in total offense (538.4 ypg) and seventh in passing offense (353.3 ypg). The Aggies also broke the school record for completion percentage by connecting on 69.3 percent of their aerial attempts (No. 3 in SEC history). Manziel threw 37 touchdown passes to rank tied for fourth in the nation while he passed for 4,114 yards with an average of 316.5 yards per game that was ninth in the country.

Spavital was the quarterbacks coach for two seasons at West Virginia for Smith, who finished his collegiate career in 2012 with 11,662 passing yards and 98 touchdown throws while completing 988-of-1,465 passes (67.4%). The Mountaineers ranked in the top 10 nationally in 2012 in passing efficiency (161.97, No. 9), scoring offense (39.5 ppg, No. 9), passing offense (330.2 ypg, No. 10) and total offense (502.0 ypg, No. 10). Smith was fifth nationally in passing yards (4,205) and passing yards per game (323.5 ypg) as well as sixth in passing efficiency (163.86). In his first season at West Virginia in 2011, Spavital helped lead the Mountaineers to a 10-3 overall record and a win over Clemson in the 2012 Orange Bowl. West Virginia ranked sixth nationally in passing offense (346.9 ypg) in his first season with the Mountaineers and was also in the top 20 in scoring offense (37.6 ppg, No. 13), total offense (469.5 ypg, No. 15) and passing efficiency (151.14, No. 19). Smith earned Orange Bowl MVP honors after accounting for seven touchdowns in a 70-33 victory. He led the Big East in nearly every passing category including passing yards (4,385), passing yards per game (337.3 ypg) and touchdown passes (31).

Prior to his two seasons at West Virginia, Spavital was a graduate assistant for the offense at Oklahoma State under Gundy and then-Cowboys offensive coordinator Holgorsen. During his one season in Stillwater, the Cowboys ranked second nationally in passing offense (387.2 ypg) and scoring offense (48.7 ppg) as well as third in total offense (545.9 ypg). Oklahoma State also led the country in red zone efficiency by scoring on 95 percent of its red zone trips. The Cowboys posted an 11-2 overall record and capped the season with a 36-10 win over Arizona in the Alamo Bowl.

Spavital also served as an offensive graduate assistant on Sumlin's staff along with Kingsbury at Houston in 2009 when the Cougars went 10-4 and led the nation in total offense (563.4 ypg), passing offense (433.7 ypg) and scoring offense (42.2 ppg).

Spavital began his coaching career at Tulsa in 2008 as an offensive quality control assistant under Malzahn. The Golden Hurricane led the nation in total offense (569.9 ypg) while ranking second in scoring offense (47.2 ppg) and ninth in passing offense (301.9 ypg). Tulsa posted an 11-3 record including a 45-13 win over Ball State in the GMAC Bowl.

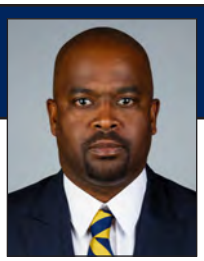
All told, Spavital has served on the coaching staffs of eight teams that have combined to post a 74-32 overall record.

Spavital was a two-year letterwinner as a quarterback and punter for Missouri State from 2004-07. He earned his bachelor's degree from the school in business administration in 2008.

A native of Tulsa, Okla., Spavital was a consensus first-team all-state quarterback at Union High School for a program that won the Class 6A state title game in his 2002 junior season, finished his junior and 2003 senior campaigns ranked second and third in the nation, respectively, and posted a 26-1 record during those two seasons with Spavital under center.

Spavital's wife, Mehgan Morris, was one of the top women's gymnasts in West Virginia history and has also served as a volunteer coach for her alma mater. His father, Steve, is a former high school football coach while his brother, Zac, is the linebackers coach at Texas Tech.

ASSISTANT COACHES



GREG BURNS

Safeties, 3rd Season

Greg Burns is in his third season on the Cal coaching staff in 2016 and his second as the team's safeties coach after working with all of the defensive backs in his first campaign with the Golden Bears in 2014. Burns has been a member of 12 bowl game staffs heading into his 20th season as a collegiate coach in 2016.

Burns has spent 10 of his last 15 seasons working in the Pac-12 with four previous seasons each at USC and Arizona State before the last two campaigns at Cal. Among Burns' 12 bowl games are four BCS bowls all during his time at USC when he was part of a Trojans' coaching staff that won back-to-back AP national championships in 2003 and 2004.

"Greg is a real solid football coach and has a great work ethic," head coach Sonny Dykes said. "I have a lot of respect for his approach to the game and I love the way he works with the players. He's a really consistent and good teacher. And he's adaptable. He can coach different positions in the defensive backfield. He's a good communicator and teacher who has a lot of credibility having coached and played in this league. He is a fair and demanding coach who does an excellent job communicating with his student-athletes."

"The coaching and recruiting experience Greg has at the highest levels of college football, his familiarity with the Pac-12 and the type of players the league attracts pays dividends for us," Dykes added. "He has developed great relationships and really understands his primary recruiting area in Southern California. He does a great job for us in that area."

The contributions of the 2015 Cal defense helped the Bears to an 8-5 record, giving Cal its first eight-win season since the 2009 team was also 8-5 with only 29 teams since the beginning of Cal football in 1882-83 winning eight or more and only 17 either nine or 10. Cal capped its 2015 season with its first bowl victory since 2008 in the Lockheed Martin Armed Forces Bowl with the spot in postseason play its first since 2011.

Much of Cal's improvement in 2015 was because the Bears' defense continued to improve at a rapid rate, allowing 9.1 less points per game than the previous season and 15.8 points fewer than the 2013 campaign before Burns arrived along with defensive coordinator Art Kaufman arrived in 2014.

Cal was one of the nation's top teams in categories related to caused turnovers during the 2015 season as the Golden Bears finished the campaign tied for 11th nationally in fumbles recovered (12), tied for 13th in turnovers gained (27), tied for 23rd in passes intercepted (15) and tied for 25th in defensive touchdowns (3). Cal tied for first in the Pac-12 in fumbles recovered, tied for second in turnovers

"Coach Burns is a very technical and strategic coach that makes you think and view the game in a way that I have never seen a coach before do. He's probably the best coach I've ever had."

– Sophomore S Evan Rambo

"Coach Burns is a real players' coach. Having the playing experience as a collegiate athlete, he understands what it takes to be successful and he takes the time to view things from a players' perspective. He's a great teacher and a great coach."

– Junior S Luke Rubenzer

gained and passes intercepted, and tied for fourth in defensive touchdowns. All of the 2015 numbers and rankings were improvements from the previous season.

The safety position at Cal was solidified in 2015 by the play of senior Stefan McClure and junior Damariay Drew with Burns being able to focus on the safeties after the hiring of John Lovett to coach the cornerbacks in 2015.

McClure, the only three-time team captain in school history, recovered from a series of injuries that caused him to miss 25 of 49 possible games including the entire 2012 campaign over his first four seasons to earn honorable mention All-Pac-12 honors and start all 13 possible contests both for the first time in his career as a fifth-year senior in 2015. He had career highs of 61 tackles and 3.5 tackles for loss (-14 yards), his first career sack (-9 yards), third career fumble recovery that he returned 45 yards for his first career touchdown against Washington State to earn Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Week honors and recorded three pass breakups. McClure was also selected as the winner of Cal's prestigious Joe Roth Award honoring the player who best exemplifies courage, sportsmanship and attitude. In addition, he was recognized for his community service by being named to the Wuerffel Trophy watch list and was Cal's nominee for the Allstate AFCA Good Works Team®. McClure signed an undrafted free agent contract with the Indianapolis Colts after the 2016 NFL Draft.

Drew finished third on the 2015 squad with a career-high 71 tackles despite missing the final two-plus regular season games due to injury after suffering an injury in the 10th contest of the season against Oregon State before returning to play in the Lockheed Martin Armed Forces Bowl victory over Air Force. He also had career-highs of 4.0 tackles for loss (career-high -9 yards) and two interceptions as well as one pass breakup. His two interceptions came in critical moments late in the fourth quarter to secure victories in back-to-back games at Washington and against Washington State.

In his first season at Cal in 2014, Burns' defensive backs dealt with significant injuries at the safety position and a tremendous amount of youth and inexperience at cornerback. Key veteran safeties McClure, Griffin Piatt and Avery Sebastian combined to miss 21 possible starts due to injury. The team's three starting cornerbacks in 2014 – Cedric Dozier, Cameron Walker and Darius White – had a combined four starts at the position prior to the season.

In addition to his Pac-12 experience, Burns has other collegiate coaching stops at Idaho, Louisville, Kansas State, Purdue and Massachusetts.

Burns spent the 2013 season as the defensive backs coach for a Massachusetts' unit that ranked No. 42 nationally in passing yards allowed (217.8 ypg).

Burns was at Purdue in 2012 when three of the Boilermakers' five players on All-Big Ten teams came from his secondary in cornerbacks Ricardo Allen and Josh Johnson, and safety Landon Feichter. Purdue ranked No. 43 nationally in pass efficiency defense (124.59).

Burns joined the Purdue staff after spending the previous four seasons (2008-11) as the cornerbacks coach at Arizona State. The Sun Devils led the Pac-10 and finished among the nation's top units in 2009 in total defense (No. 13, 297.58 ypg), rushing defense (No. 19, 108.58 ypg) and passing defense (No. 26, 189.00 ypg). Arizona State also led the conference in rushing defense and was No. 16 nationally (119.67 ypg) the following season in 2010, while ranking second in the league and among the nation's top units in tackles for loss (No. 8, 7.42 tflpg), pass efficiency defense (No. 20, 108.58) and scoring defense (No. 26, 21.08 ppg). Defensive back Omar Bolden was a first-team All-Pac-10 selection in 2010 and selected in the fourth round of the 2012 NFL Draft by the Denver Broncos, where he has played for four seasons for the Super Bowl 50 winners who were also participants in Super Bowl XLVIII before signing as a free agent with the Chicago Bears in March of 2016.

Prior to his four campaigns at ASU, Burns spent the 2007 season as the defensive backs coach at Kansas State.

Burns' lone season in the NFL came with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers as the team's defensive backs coach in 2006, where he coached cornerback Ronde Barber in his second and final All-Pro campaign.

His two national championships in 2003 and 2004 came during a tremendously successful run at USC as the defensive backs coach under head coach Pete Carroll for four seasons from 2002-05, with the Trojans winners of the BCS National Championship Game in January of 2005 following the 2004 campaign.

During his time at USC, Burns developed a reputation as one of the brightest secondary coaches in the country and mentored a number of standout performers, including All-American safeties Troy Polamalu (2002) and Darnell Bing (2005). He also coached first-team All-Pac-10 cornerback Will Poole in 2003. Polamalu was a first-round selection (16th overall) of the Pittsburgh Steelers in the 2003 NFL Draft, while Poole and Bing were fourth-round picks of the Miami Dolphins and Detroit Lions in 2004 and 2006. Terrell Thomas, who played one season for Burns in 2005, ended up a second-round selection of the New York Giants in the 2008 NFL Draft. In 2004, the Trojans were sixth nationally in total defense (279.3 ypg).

Burns previously coached cornerbacks for four seasons at Louisville from 1998-2001 and produced six All-Conference USA selections during his tenure, including first-teamers Anthony Floyd (2000, 2001) and Antonio Roundtree (1998) while Rashad Holman was selected by the San Francisco 49ers in the sixth round of the 2001 NFL Draft. The Cardinals ranked 18th nationally in pass efficiency defense and had 20 interceptions in his final season in 2001. In 2000, Louisville led the nation in interceptions (27) and was 20th in the country in pass efficiency defense. Louisville played in bowls during each of the four seasons of his tenure at the 1998 Motor City Bowl, 1999 Humanitarian Bowl, and 2000 and 2001 Liberty Bowl.

Burns started his coaching career with one campaign as the cornerbacks coach at Idaho (1997) with the Vandals intercepting 13 passes.

Burns was a four-year letterwinner (1991-93, 1995) and three-year starter at Washington State, earning honorable mention All-Pac-10 honors in 1992 when the Cougars won the Copper Bowl. He earned his bachelor's degree in psychology from Washington State in 1995 and his master's in counseling psychology from the same school in 1997.

Burns participated on the football and track and field teams at Dorsey High School in Los Angeles, where he graduated from in 1991.

He and his wife Crystal have three sons: Cristopher, Carter and Cooper.

ASSISTANT COACHES

GARRET CHACHERE

Associate Head Coach/Running Backs, 4th Season

Garret Chachere is in his fourth season on the coaching staff at Cal in 2016 and his first as the team's running backs coach after spending the last three campaigns on the defensive side of the ball. Chachere worked for two seasons as the team's linebackers coach in 2014 and 2015 after working with the defensive ends in his debut season with the Golden Bears in 2013. Chachere has coached several positions on both sides of the ball during his first 24 seasons as a collegiate coach.

"Having Garret returning to coach our running backs was a natural move and made a lot of sense," head coach Sonny Dykes said. "He is a terrific addition to our offensive coaching staff and will do a great job. It's a position he coached at Arizona and the position he played in college. He's got a lot of experience coaching in this offense and he feels really good about coming back to coach in it. I know the players responded to him very well this spring."

"These moves will strengthen our coaching staff," Dykes said when he announced Chachere's move to running backs and defensive coordinator Art Kaufman adding responsibilities coaching the linebackers on February 11, 2016. "Garret is an outstanding teacher who will do a fantastic job as our running backs coach. He has a tremendous amount of expertise with this offense from his time on the coaching staff at Arizona and that was critical to us being able to make these moves. Garret is quite comfortable with this offense. He speaks the same language as the rest of the staff, and I am extremely confident that he will fit right in and be on the same page with Jake Spavital and all of our coaches on the offensive side of the ball.»

Chachere, who was promoted to Cal's associate head coach in 2015, spent three seasons on the offensive side of the ball at Arizona from 2009-11 and tutored the running backs in his final season in Tucson when one of his pupils was Ka'Deem Carey, who evolved into a two-time consensus first-team All-American rushing for a combined 3,814 yards over his final two collegiate seasons. Carey was the Pac-12 Offensive Player of the Year in his final campaign in 2013 after a strong freshman season the previous year under Chachere's tutelage. Carey would later become a fourth-round pick of his current NFL team the Chicago Bears in the 2014 NFL Draft. The Wildcats had the 16th-ranked team nationally in total offense (465.25 ypg) during his single season as the team's running backs coach in 2012.

Chachere was the wide receivers coach during his first two seasons with the Wildcats on a staff with Dykes as the offensive coordinator in his first two campaigns. The Wildcats played in bowl games each of those two seasons at the Holiday Bowl and Alamo Bowl. Arizona was the nation's ninth-ranked passing offense in 2010 (307.69 ypg) with David Douglas catching 52 passes for 515 yards and five touchdowns, while fellow receiver David Roberts contributed 44 catches for 487 yards.

Chachere spent one season as the special teams coordinator and tight ends coach at Southern Miss (2012) after leaving Arizona prior to arriving at Cal.

In his third season on the defensive staff at Cal in 2015, the team's defense made significant improvements to help the Bears to an 8-5 record, giving Cal its first eight-win season since the 2009 team was also 8-5 with only 29 teams since the beginning of Cal football in 1882-83 winning eight or more and only 17 either nine or 10. Cal capped its 2015 season with its first bowl victory since 2008 in the Lockheed Martin Armed Forces Bowl with the spot in postseason play its first since 2011.

Much of Cal's improvement in 2015 was because the Bears' defense continued to improve at a rapid rate, allowing 9.1 less points per game than the previous season and 15.8 points fewer than the 2013 campaign before Kaufman arrived in January of 2014.

Cal was one of the nation's top teams in categories related to caused turnovers during the 2015 season as the Golden Bears finished the campaign tied for 11th nationally in fumbles recovered (12), tied for 13th in turnovers gained (27), tied for 23rd in passes intercepted (15) and tied for 25th in defensive touchdowns (3). Cal tied for first in the Pac-12 in fumbles recovered, tied for second in turnovers gained and passes intercepted, and tied for fourth in defensive touchdowns. All of the 2015 numbers and rankings were improvements from the previous season.

Cal also put up significantly better numbers in 2015 from the previous season in sacks (2015 – 28, 2.15 spg; 2014 – 1.33 spg), team passing efficiency defense (2015 – 135.49; 2014 – 154.54), tackles for loss (2015 – 62.0, 5.2 tflpg; 2014 – 55.0, 4.6 tflpg), total defense (2015 – 453.7; 2014 – 511.8) and scoring defense (30.7 ppg, 39.8 ppg).

Linebacker Hardy Nickerson was an honorable mention All-Pac-12 selection for the first time in his career playing for Chachere in 2015. Nickerson was named Cal's Defensive MVP after he recorded 112 tackles to become the program's first player to record 100 or more stops in a single-season since Mychal Kendricks registered 107 in 2011 and the most since Mike Mohamed also had 112 in 2009. He ranked third in the Pac-12 in total tackles as well as fourth in the league and 48th nationally with 8.6 stops per game.

Chachere coached three of the team's four top tacklers in 2014 in linebackers Michael Barton (80), Nickerson (69) and Jalen Jefferson (58). The trio were major factors in the team's one-year improvement of 48 spots and 44 yards per game in rush defense to No. 38 nationally (144.6 ypg). Barton and Nickerson recorded new career bests in tackles in 2014 that Nickerson would break in

– Junior RB Tre Watson

2015 while Jefferson was just shy of the career-best 64 stops he picked up as a 2013 sophomore.

Before he took over Cal's linebackers in 2014, Chachere worked with a group of defensive ends in his first season at Cal in 2013 that came into the campaign lacking a single start at the position at the collegiate level and helped develop the likes of Kyle Kragen, who would have a breakthrough campaign as a 2015 senior and sign an undrafted free agent contract with the Denver Broncos following his playing career at Cal.

Chachere has coached six different positions for teams that have reached postseason play.

Prior to his arrival in Tucson, Chachere spent two seasons as the special teams coordinator at Memphis (2007-08), with the Tigers advancing to play in the New Orleans Bowl in 2007 and the St. Petersburg Bowl in 2008.

In 2008, Chachere helped the Tigers rank 22nd nationally in punt return defense (5.68 ypp), while also being listed among the national leaders in net punting (38th, 36.30 ypg) and kickoff return defense (42nd, 20.01 ypg). Placekicker Matt Reagan was 8-of-11 on field goals and also converted 31-of-32 extra points to lead the Tigers in scoring (55 points) for the second consecutive season. Reagan earned two Conference USA Player of the Week honors.

Returner Michael Grandberry set nearly every school record for kick returns in 2007, including single-game yardage (168 vs. Southern Miss), single-season returns (59), single-season yardage (1,286) and career 100-yard return games (8). He also set the Tigers' all-time records for combined kickoff and punt returns (112) and yardage (2,401).

Chachere spent eight seasons at his alma mater Tulane from 1999-2006, where he coached the Green Wave linebackers throughout his tenure and was also the team's punt return coordinator for his first five seasons. In 2002, the Green Wave defeated host Hawai'i in the Hawai'i Bowl.

During his stint at Tulane, Chachere helped develop linebacker Anthony Cannon, who was drafted by the Detroit Lions in the seventh round of the 2006 NFL Draft. Cannon earned first-team All-Conference USA honors in 2005 and logged four straight 100-tackle seasons en route to ranking third all-time in Conference USA in tackles at the end of his collegiate career.

Chachere also recruited current New York Jets' running back Matt Forté to Tulane. Forté was selected in the second round of the 2008 NFL Draft by the Chicago Bears and recorded 8,602 rushing yards in eight seasons with the Bears before signing a free agent deal with the Jets in February of 2016. Forte had over 1,000 yards rushing in five of his eight seasons with Chicago and never had less than 898. He played in the NFL's Pro Bowl following the league's 2011 and 2013 seasons.

Chachere was also a member of the 2005 Tulane coaching staff that endured Hurricane Katrina, providing leadership throughout the team's evacuation from the New Orleans area and return to campus facilities.

In 2002, Tulane's defense led the nation in turnovers gained (43) and Chachere was also the punt return coordinator for a group that finished second nationally in punt returns (17.29 ypr). Lynaris Elpheage earned first-team All-Conference USA honors as a punt returner, ranking fifth nationally in punt returns with a 16.5 yard average.

Prior to his eight-season run at Tulane, Chachere spent the 1998 campaign at Northeast Louisiana, where he was the tight ends coach and also worked on the same staff as Dykes.

Chachere was at Nicholls State as the linebackers coach from 1995-97, with the Colonels earning a spot in the NCAA Division I-AA playoffs in 1996 when they posted an 8-4 overall record after being winless the previous season to mark the biggest turnaround in Division I history at the time. One of his top players at the school was Darnell Small, who would go on to play in the Canadian Football League and Arena Football League.

Chachere began his coaching career in 1992 at Cheyney (defensive backs/running backs), followed by subsequent one-season stops in 1993 at Bloomsburg (defensive backs) and 1994 at Bucknell (defensive backs/special teams coordinator) prior to his three seasons at Nicholls State.

Chachere has been active throughout his coaching career with the American Football Coaches Association. He served as the organization's program committee chairman at the 2007 AFCA National Convention, while providing his expertise on linebacker play by speaking at the 2008 convention and publishing several articles on the subject in the AFCA coaches handbook.

A native of New Orleans, La., Chachere played two seasons of college football in his hometown at Tulane in 1987 and 1988, and was a member of the Green Wave's 1987 Independence Bowl team under then-head coach Mack Brown. He received his bachelor's degree in communication from Tulane in 1992.

Chachere prepped in New Orleans at Brother Martin High School, where he was his team's MVP and a captain as a senior in 1986. He earned the New Orleans Sports Foundation Leadership Award in his final prep campaign.

Chachere is married to the former Lauren Duplsis and the have three sons - Grant, Noah, and Jackson.

ASSISTANT COACHES

BRANDON JONES

Run Game Coordinator/Offensive Line, 2nd Season

Brandon Jones is in his second season as the run game coordinator and offensive line coach at Cal in 2016. Jones made an immediate impact in his first season at Cal in 2015 as the team's run game coordinator and offensive line coach to help improve a record-breaking Cal offense that has been among the nation's best over the past three seasons under the direction of head coach Sonny Dykes and former offensive coordinator Tony Franklin.

"Brandon is one of the best offensive line coaches in the country," head coach Sonny Dykes said. "He is very demanding and there's a level of accountability that he coaches with but at the same time guys love playing for him. He's a really good communicator as well and the players really understand what he wants. He sets expectations and he's very clear about them. He's also played in this offense and has a lot of credibility. I think the players can relate to the success he's had both as a coach and a player. Our offensive line is one of the most improved positions on our football program, and I look forward to it being one of our major strengths this year."

Cal will have four starting offensive lineman returning from 2015 that have a combined 84 career starts in right tackle Steven Moore (36), left guard Chris Borrayo (29), center Dominic Granado (13) and left tackle Aaron Cochran (6). The offensive line played a major role in the Golden Bears 8-5 record in 2015 that was the team's first eight-win season since the 2009 squad was also 8-5 with only 29 teams since the beginning of Cal football in 1882-83 winning eight or more and only 17 either nine or 10. Cal capped its 2015 season with its first bowl victory since 2008 in the Lockheed Martin Armed Forces Bowl with the spot in postseason play its first since 2011.

Cal's offense flourished again in 2015, setting numerous records including single-season school marks in passing yardage (4,892), passing yards per game (376.3 ypg), passing touchdowns (44), total offense (6,879), total yards per game (529.2 ypg), total touchdowns (63), first downs (341) and first downs passing (201), as well as a modern-era record for points (493), with all the marks previously set in 2013 or 2014.

Cal ranked third nationally in passing offense, eighth in total offense and 17th in scoring offense in 2015, with all of the numbers second in the Pac-12.

Cal's 2015 offensive line was led by Borrayo and senior Jordan Rigsbee. Borrayo was an honorable mention All-Pac-12 selection of the league's coaches and third-team pick of Phil Steele while Rigsbee started all 49 games of his collegiate career and signed an undrafted free agent contract with the Carolina Panthers following the 2016 NFL Draft.

The offensive line was responsible for protecting quarterback Jared Goff, who broke a pair of Pac-12 single-season records when he passed for 4,719 yards and 43 touchdowns in 2015 when he ranked third in the nation in both passing touchdowns and passing yards. He was also second both nationally and in the conference in passing yards per game (363.0) among 10 categories in which he ranked among the top three in the conference and top 20 nationally.

Goff was the first Cal quarterback to earn first-team All-Pac-12 honors since Rodgers in 2004, a semifinalist for the Davey O'Brien National Quarterback Award and Cal's Most Outstanding Player in a Lockheed Martin Armed Forces Bowl victory over Air Force.

Cal was the only team in the nation to have six receivers with 40 or more catches in 2015 and also became the first college football team in recorded history to have six players with 40 or more receptions and three 500-yard rushers in the same season with each of three rushers returning in 2016 in Khalfani Muhammad (87-586, 1 TD), Vic Enwere (106-505, 8 TD) and Tre Watson (89-504, 3 TD).

Jones has been a member of seven bowl staffs during the first nine seasons of his coaching career including four out of five campaigns prior to his arrival at Cal as the offensive line coach at East Carolina (2010-14). The Pirates' offense broke multiple school records and consistently ranked among the nation's offensive leaders during his tenure in which he produced seven all-conference offensive linemen.

During his final season at East Carolina in 2014 the Pirates posted an 8-5 record and reached the Birmingham Bowl led by an offense that ranked third in the nation in passing offense (371.9 ypg), fourth in first downs (378) and fifth in total offense (533.0 ypg), setting single-season school records and leading the American Athletic Conference in all three categories. East Carolina was also 22nd nationally in scoring offense (35.8 ppg).

Center Taylor Hudson was a first-team all-conference selection for the Pirates in 2014, while guard J.T. Boyd and tackle Ike Harris were second-team picks in the Pirates' inaugural campaign in the second season of the AAC that formerly operated as the Big East Conference. The offensive line protected quarterback Shane Carden, who was the American Athletic Conference Player of the Year and ranked second in the nation with a single-season school-record 4,736 passing yards.

Jones coached three offensive linemen to All-Conference USA honors on a 2013 squad that finished 10-3 overall for the second-most wins in school history and posted a victory over Ohio in the Beef 'O' Brady's Bowl. Guard Will Simmons was a first-team all-conference selection, while guard Jordan Davis was a second-team pick and tackle Adhem Elsawi an honorable mention choice, with Elsawi also picking up first-team Capital One Academic All-District 3 honors and a second consecutive selection to the Conference USA All-Academic squad. The offense established a single-season school record with a scoring average of 40.2 points per game that was eighth nationally, as well as then-school marks for first downs (346, No. 10 NCAA), passing offense (328.1 ypg, No. 11 NCAA) and total offense (468.2 ypg, No. 25 NCAA) that were eclipsed in 2014. The offensive line also helped Carden earn Conference USA Most Valuable Player of the Year honors as he passed for 4,139 yards to give ECU its first 4,000-yard passer in school history.

Simmons (second-team) and Elsawi (honorable mention) both earned All-Conference USA honors for the first time in 2012 when East Carolina's offensive line played a pivotal role in an 8-5 season that culminated with a trip to the R+L Carriers New Orleans Bowl and allowed Carden to pass for 3,116 yards, which was the third-most in school history at the time.

Jones coached an offensive line in 2011 that, despite featuring seven players that made their first collegiate start during the campaign, helped the Pirates finish 20th nationally in passing offense (286.1 ypg).

In his first season at East Carolina in 2010 that was capped by an appearance in the Military Bowl, Jones was part of a coaching staff that installed a new spread scheme and finished the campaign ranked eighth nationally in passing offense (318.7 ypg), 16th in scoring offense (36.8 ppg) and 25th in total offense (437.6 ypg). Jones coached a trio of returning starters in first-team All-Conference USA selection Willie Smith, Cory Dowless and D.J. Scott that anchored the offensive line along with Conference USA All-Freshman pick Grant Harner.

Jones also spent one campaign coaching running backs and tight ends at Sam Houston State (2009) after two seasons as an offensive assistant at his alma mater Texas Tech (2007-08), where the Red Raiders led the nation in passing offense in back-to-back years and rolled up records of 11-2 (2008) and 9-4 (2007) to earn trips to the Cotton Bowl and Gator Bowl, respectively. The 2008 team was ranked No. 12 in the final AP Top 25 and USA Today Poll, while the 2007 squad finished as high as No. 22 in the AP Top 25.

In between his positions as an offensive assistant at Texas Tech and his first full-time coaching position at Sam Houston State, he was briefly a graduate assistant on the offensive side of the ball at Oklahoma State in 2008 along with current Cal offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach Jake Spavital.

Jones earned his bachelor's degree in communication studies from Texas Tech in 2006, playing for Dykes when the current Cal head coach was the Red Raiders' co-offensive coordinator (2005-06) during the final two seasons of Dykes' seven-year stay in Lubbock. Jones started 22 career games at center and earned honorable mention All-Big 12 honors as a 2005 junior. He was a Rimington Award candidate as the nation's top center as a 2006 senior, while adding both the school's E.J. Holub Double Tough Award and Most Improved Player honor.

Jones was a first-team All-State choice on both the offensive and defensive lines as a 2001 senior at McNary High School in Keizer, Ore., helping lead the Celtics to the state title.

Jones was born in Wichita, Kan., and grew up in Texas prior to moving to Oregon for his final two years of high school. He is married to the former Latoya Daniels of Ft. Worth, Texas. The couple has one daughter, Jordyn.

JOHN LOVETT

Cornerbacks, 2nd Season

John Lovett is in his second season as the cornerbacks coach at Cal in 2016. Lovett is a veteran college and NFL coach with 37 seasons of experience that includes 18 campaigns as a collegiate defensive coordinator and 15 as a defensive backs coach at the collegiate and NFL levels. Lovett has been on 12 bowl staffs and coached one NFL playoff squad over the past 20 seasons.

"John's got a ton of experience in the coaching profession and is an outstanding coach and teacher," head coach Sonny Dykes said. "He is a proven coach who has had success at the highest level of football. He loves the game of football and loves to teach football. He's a football junkie. He always wants to talk about the game and how to get better. He's very bright and creative. He and Art Kaufman have also worked together in a lot of different situations. They have a very unique relationship. They understand each other and anticipate each other's thoughts."

Lovett's hiring just prior to the 2015 season allowed Cal to have five full-time coaches on its defensive staff and two coaches in the secondary with Greg Burns being able to focus on the squad's safeties.

"By hiring John it allowed us to put needed resources into our defensive coaching staff to work with a young group of players that we know we need to continue to improve," Dykes said. "I am especially excited to have a pair of highly-respected coaches like John and Greg working together with our defensive backs. I have a tremendous amount of respect for the improvements our defensive staff has made in our defense and hiring John helped us speed up the process even more."

The plan worked well in its first season in 2015 as the contributions of the Cal defense helped the Bears to an 8-5 record, giving Cal its first eight-win season since the 2009 team was also 8-5 with only 29 teams since the beginning of Cal football in 1882-83 winning eight or more and only 17 either nine or 10. Cal capped its 2015 season with its first bowl victory since 2008 in the Lockheed Martin Armed Forces Bowl with the spot in postseason play its first since 2011.

Much of Cal's improvement in 2015 was because the Bears' defense continued to improve at a rapid rate, allowing 9.1 less points per game than the previous season and 15.8 points fewer than the 2013 campaign.

Cal was one of the nation's top teams in categories related to caused turnovers during the 2015 season as the Golden Bears finished the campaign tied for 11th nationally in fumbles recovered (12), tied for 13th in turnovers gained (27), tied for 23rd in passes intercepted (15) and tied for 25th in defensive touchdowns (3). Cal tied for first in the Pac-12 in fumbles recovered, tied for second in turnovers gained and passes intercepted, and tied for fourth in defensive touchdowns. All of the 2015 numbers and rankings were improvements from the previous season.

The team's cornerbacks were a major part of the success formula with Darius White and Darius Allensworth solidifying the position by each starting all 13 games and setting career highs in every category other than Allensworth's tackle for loss yards for a pass defense that has allowed fewer than half the touchdown passes it did in 2014.

White led the team with three interceptions that he returned for a team-high 21 yards and was sixth on the team with 59 tackles. He was also second on the club with 11 passes defended and eight pass breakups while adding 2.0 tackles for loss, a team-high-tying one fumble recovery and one forced fumble. White was tied for eighth in the Pac-12 in per-game averages for interceptions (0.23) and passes defended (0.85). White signed an undrafted free agent contract with the Indianapolis Colts after the 2016 NFL Draft.

Allensworth had a team-high 12 passes defended and 11 pass breakups as well as a team-high-tying two forced fumbles. He added 41 tackles, 1.5 tackles for loss (-5 yards) and one interception. Allensworth was tied for third in the Pac-12 in his per-game average for passes defended (0.92) and tied for 10th in forced fumbles (0.15).

Lovett spent the previous two seasons as the defensive backs coach for a Philadelphia Eagles squad that put together back-to-back 10-6 campaigns, winning an NFC East Division title and playing in the NFL Wildcard Weekend round of the NFL Playoffs following the 2013 regular season.

Lovett was the defensive backs coach under Kaufman when both were on a Texas Tech defensive staff in 2012 after the two previously spent four seasons together at Mississippi from 1995-98 with the Rebels playing in bowl games during each of his final two campaigns.

In addition to his work in the NFL and with Kaufman, Lovett also has extensive experience as a defensive coordinator for six teams most recently for two seasons at Miami (Fla.) from 2009-10. He earned his first job as a defensive coordinator at Maine (1985-88) and returned to the school for one season in 1994 before beginning his four-season stint with Kaufman at Mississippi. He has also been a defensive coordinator at Cincinnati (1989-92), Auburn (1999-2001), Clemson (2002-04) and Bowling Green State (2005-06).

In his most recent position with Philadelphia, Lovett's defensive backs helped the Eagles to 19 interceptions in his first season during the 2013 campaign to rank tied for fifth in the NFC and tied for eighth in the NFL, with cornerback Brandon Boykin's six picks ranking tied for second in both the league and the conference. The team's 2013 defense was also fifth in the NFC and eighth in the NFL with a touchdown percentage of 3.7.

Lovett played a key role in the complete overhaul of the Texas Tech defense during his single season in Lubbock in 2012 as the defensive backs coach under Kaufman. Inheriting a 2011 unit that ranked 114th nationally in total defense (485.58 ypg), the Red Raiders improved to 38th (367.31 ypg) while ranking second in the Big 12 Conference. Texas Tech was keyed by a pass defense that led the league and ranked 15th in the country (192.00 ypg). The Red Raiders finished 8-5 overall and were victorious over Minnesota at the Meineke Car Care Bowl.

Texas Tech defensive backs Cody Davis and D.J. Johnson were named second-team All-Big 12 in 2012 while Davis was also a first-team Capital One Academic All-America® selection and one of 15 finalists for the prestigious William B. Campbell Trophy also known as the "Academic Heisman". Davis led the team in tackles (101) and interceptions (3), including one that he returned 88 yards for a touchdown, while also totaling seven pass breakups, 10 passes defended and 3.5 tackles for loss (-8 yards). Johnson was second on the squad with 90 tackles, including 69 solo tackles, 2.0 tackles for loss (-13 yards), two interceptions, four pass breakups and six passes defended.

Before rejoining Kaufman at Texas Tech, Lovett spent two seasons (2009-10) as the defensive coordinator at Miami (Fla.) with the Hurricanes playing in bowls both season at the Champs Sports Bowl and Sun Bowl. Lovett tutored a defensive unit that ranked 29th nationally in total defense in 2009 and featured four players that would eventually be selected in the 2011 NFL Draft in second-team All-American and two-time Jim Thorpe Award semifinalist defensive back Brandon Harris, first-team All-ACC defensive lineman Allen Bailey, and second-team All-ACC linebackers Darryl Sharpton and Colin McCarthy. Harris ended up a second-round selection of Houston and played three seasons with the Texans before one with Tennessee. Bailey was a third-round pick of his current Kansas City Chiefs. Sharpton was a fourth-round choice of Houston and played four seasons with the club before moving on to rosters in Chicago, Washington and Arizona. McCarthy played four seasons with the Titans after being drafted by the club in the fourth round before announcing his retirement from football in 2015.

During his two seasons as the defensive coordinator at Bowling Green State he also coached linebackers in 2005 and defensive backs in 2006. In his first year with the Falcons, Lovett's defense ranked 20th in the country in turnover margin.

In his three-season tenure as the defensive coordinator at Clemson from 2002-04, Lovett spearheaded the development of one of the ACC's top defenses. In 2004, Clemson was 11th in the nation in pass efficiency defense (103.39) and 26th in total defense (327.27 ypg) while his 2003 defense allowed just 19.2 points per game to rank tied for 20th in scoring defense as the Tigers finished the season with nine wins, a top-25 national ranking and a Peach Bowl victory over Tennessee. Defensive backs Brian Mance (All-American) and Justin Miller (Freshman All-American) both earned national honors in the first season of his stint, while Miller also played for six seasons in the NFL after being selected by the New York Jets in the second round of the 2005 NFL Draft. Lovett also helped Tye Hill transition from a running back in his first campaign at Clemson into a defensive back who earned consensus All-American honors and was a finalist for the Thorpe Award in his senior season before being selected in the first round of the 2006 NFL Draft and playing five campaigns in the NFL.

As the defensive coordinator at Auburn from 1999-2001, Lovett helped lead the Tigers to bowl games each of his last two seasons with appearances in the Florida Citrus Bowl and Peach Bowl.

Lovett coached the secondary all four years he was at Mississippi (1995-98), including the 1997 season when the Rebels had an 8-4 overall record, including a victory over Marshall in the Motor City Bowl. The Rebels were 7-5 and victorious over Texas Tech in the Independence Bowl in his second campaign.

Lovett's two stints as the defensive coordinator at Maine (1985-88, 1994) were highlighted by a 1987 squad that won the Yankee Conference and qualified for the Division I-AA playoffs. He also coached the team's defensive backs during his first four seasons at Maine.

Lovett began his coaching career as an assistant at St. Joseph Regional High School in Montvale, N.J. (1976-77) and was also an assistant at Union College (1978-82) and Brown (1983) before spending the 1984 season in a defensive quality control role with the New York Jets that launched him into his first defensive coordinator position at Maine in 1985.

Other stops during his career have included one season as the defensive backs coach at UNLV (1993) and two campaigns in the role of special teams coordinator and defensive assistant at North Carolina (2007-08).

Lovett graduated from C.W. Post (now known as LIU Post) with a bachelor's degree in education in December of 1973 and was inducted into the school's Hall of Fame in the fall of 2008. He initially was a walk-on but quickly earned a scholarship and served as the team's co-captain as a senior in 1973. At the completion of his collegiate playing career, he enrolled in graduate school at Denver and earned his master's degree in physical education in 1975.

JACOB PEELER

Inside Receivers, 4th Season

Jacob Peeler is in his fourth season as a member of the Cal football staff and his second campaign as the team's inside receivers coach in 2016 after having worked with the same position group as a graduate assistant in 2012 and 2013. Peeler has been instrumental in the success of Cal's record-breaking the past three seasons and has also developed into one of the nation's top recruiters.

"Jacob does an outstanding job as a coach on the field and he also has an outstanding track record with recruiting," head coach Sonny Dykes said. "He has really helped us bring in some of the nation's best student-athletes. He is very detailed, thorough and an excellent communicator. I'm excited about his future in the coaching profession."

The inside receivers played a major role in the Golden Bears 8-5 record in 2015 that was the team's first eight-win season since the 2009 squad was also 8-5 with only 29 teams since the beginning of Cal football in 1882-83 winning eight or more and only 17 either nine or 10. Cal capped its 2015 season with its first bowl victory since 2008 in the Lockheed Martin Armed Forces Bowl with the spot in postseason play its first since 2011.

Cal also tied modern-era records for PAT (56) and PAT attempts (57). In addition, the Bears became the first Cal team in the modern era to score 55 or more points in a game three times including 40 or more on five occasions and 30 or more 10 times.

Cal ranked in the top 25 nationally in a total of seven offensive categories in 2014 including passing offense (6th, 346.0 ypg), scoring offense (10th, 38.3 ppg), total offense (13th, 495.2 ypg), fourth-down conversion percentage (14th, 67.9%, 19-28), first downs offense (19th, 319), third-down conversions (23rd, 46.1%) and team passing efficiency (24th, 145.77).

Despite being an inexperienced unit that was the nation's second-youngest to start the season and battling injuries that caused players on the preseason depth chart to miss 138 games, Cal still set school records during Peeler's first season in 2013 for single-season passing yards (3,977), pass completions (368) and total plays (1,046), with the passing yards mark being broken in 2014. The passing offense finished third in the Pac-12 and 10th in the nation with an average of 331.4 yards per game that was also the best in school history before being surpassed in both 2014 and 2015. Cal's 5,443 yards of total offense in 2013 is the fifth-highest total in school history and its average of 453.6 yards per game ranks sixth.

Peeler has developed the likes of current Green Bay Packers' tight end and third-round 2014 NFL Draft pick Richard Rodgers as well as Anderson, Powe and Treggs over the last three seasons. Under Peeler's tutelage, Rodgers (39 receptions, 608 yards, 1 TD reception) and Anderson (46 receptions, 661 receiving yards, 5 TD receptions) both registered the best statistical numbers of their collegiate careers in 2013 and 2014, respectively, before Treggs put up a couple of his career bests and Powe all of his in 2015.

Peeler spent four seasons (2009-12) on the football staff at his alma mater Louisiana Tech including the final three campaigns when Dykes was the team's head coach, serving as a graduate assistant working with the inside receivers in 2012 after three previous seasons in quality control roles on the offensive side of the ball. Before returning to Louisiana Tech, he coached at both Itawamba Community College (Fulton, MS) and Independence Community College (Independence, KS).

Peeler added a master's degree in kinesiology in 2008 from Mississippi State after receiving his bachelor's degree in education in 2007 from Louisiana Tech, where he played two seasons (2005-06) and started all 13 games as a senior for an offensive line that helped the Bulldogs produce 4,479 total yards. Peeler redshirted his first season in Ruston in 2004.

Peeler arrived at Louisiana Tech after playing every offensive snap for two seasons in 2002 and 2003 at Holmes Community College (Goodman, MS), where he earned All-American as well first-team All-State and first-team All-NJCAA Region 23 honors.

Peeler and his fiancée, Tori Hollis, are planning to marry in July of 2016.

"Coach Peeler comes into work every single day with a mindset to get better as a coach as well as get his players better. He challenges his players to pay attention to detail and not take any rep off. He creates a fun, family-oriented yet competitive environment in the meeting rooms and has played a major role in my improvement as a player."

– Former TE/WR Stephen Anderson

"Coach Peeler is a great coach who bring energy every day. He's earned the respect of every person he coaches and finds ways to bring out the best on each athlete. He's one of those guys you can rely on to have you prepared for whatever the defense is going to throw at you. Coach Peeler is the coach you want in your corner when all the odds are against you."

– Junior WR Raymond Hudson

"Coach Peeler is a great coach in every sense. He is very relatable and really cares about his guys. He really stresses fundamentals and technique. He helps us on and off the field and is very interested in this team."

– Junior WR Jordan Veasy

ASSISTANT COACHES

FRED TATE

Defensive Line, 3rd Season

Fred Tate is in his third season as the defensive line coach at Cal in 2016 and his fifth consecutive campaign working for defensive coordinator Art Kaufman with the duo making previous stops at Texas Tech and Cincinnati in 2012 and 2013 prior to the duo's arrival at Cal for the 2014 campaign. The 18-year coaching veteran also worked on the same coaching staff with Kaufman for two seasons at East Carolina from 2003-04.

"Fred Tate came highly recommended from Art Kaufman when we hired him and he has lived up to those expectations," head coach Sonny Dykes said. "Our defensive line has improved by leaps and bounds under Fred. He is a very effective teacher and a great communicator with a clear teaching method that our players really enjoy. Fred is a really good defensive line coach. He's demanding, hard-working and a very good teacher. He has a blue-collar approach to the game and does a great job demanding accountability from his players."

The contributions of the 2015 Cal defense helped the Bears to an 8-5 record, giving Cal its first eight-win season since the 2009 team was also 8-5 with only 29 teams since the beginning of Cal football in 1882-83 winning eight or more and only 17 either nine or 10. Cal capped its 2015 season with its first bowl victory since 2008 in the Lockheed Martin Armed Forces Bowl with the spot in postseason play its first since 2011.

Much of Cal's improvement in 2015 was because the Bears' defense continued to improve at a rapid rate, allowing 9.1 less points per game than the previous season and 15.8 points fewer than the 2013 campaign before Kaufman and Tate arrived in 2014.

"Coach Tate knows what he wants out of a player and will do whatever it takes to help him get there, even if it means doing a drill over and over until it's done right."

– Junior DT Rusty Becker

"Coach Tate is an intense leader for our defensive line. He works us hard to get the best out of us, and he really cares that we reach our full potential. He stresses the little things that will eventually separate ourselves from others. I enjoy playing for him."

– Junior DT James Looney

"Coach Tate is a great coach. He always pushes us to our limits to get the best out of us. He coaches really hard but it is to get us to reach our highest potential. He is a big reason why I chose to come to Cal."

ASSISTANT COACHES

Cal's defensive line under Tate played a significant role in being one of the nation's top teams in categories related to caused turnovers during the 2015 season as the Golden Bears finished the campaign tied for 11th nationally in fumbles recovered (12), tied for 13th in turnovers gained (27), tied for 23rd in passes intercepted (15) and tied for 25th in defensive touchdowns (3). Cal tied for first in the Pac-12 in fumbles recovered, tied for second in turnovers gained and passes intercepted, and tied for fourth in defensive touchdowns. All of the 2015 numbers and rankings were improvements from the previous season.

Cal also put up significantly better numbers in 2015 from the previous season in sacks (2015 – 28, 2.15 spg; 2014 – 1.33 spg), team passing efficiency defense (2015 – 135.49; 2014 – 154.54), tackles for loss (2015 – 62.0, 5.2 tflpg; 2014 – 55.0, 4.6 tflpg), total defense (2015 – 453.7; 2014 – 511.8) and scoring defense (30.7 ppg, 39.8 ppg).

The emergence of honorable mention All-Pac-12 selection defensive end Kyle Kragen under Tate's leadership also played a huge part of the team's defensive improvement. Kragen capped his collegiate career with a huge 2015 senior season as he led Cal with career highs in tackles for loss (8.0, -43 yards), sacks (7.0, -36 yards) and quarterback hurries (6) while sharing the team lead with his first two career forced fumbles and adding his first career fumble recovery. In addition to being an honorable mention All-Pac-12 choice of the league's coaches, Kragen earned third-team All-Pac-12 honors from Phil Steele. He was also added to the midseason watch list for the Ted Hendricks Award honoring the nation's top defensive end.

Kragen signed an undrafted free agent contract with the Denver Broncos after his final collegiate campaign but Cal returns a pair of highly-touted defensive lineman in 2016 in junior defensive tackle James Looney (35 tackles; 3.0 TFL, -11 yards; 1.0 sack, -4 yards; 1 PBU, 1 FR) and senior defensive end DeVante Wilson (29 tackles; 2.5 TFL, -14 yards; 1.0 sack, -9) that flourished in their first season of action at Cal under Tate in 2015. Looney is a fourth-team preseason All-Pac-12 pick of Phil Steele in 2016 while Wilson is scheduled to be one of Cal's representatives at the annual Pac-12 Media Days in July.

Tate has also been instrumental in the development of depth on the defensive line at the position that played three-deep at most positions on a regular basis in 2015.

Several Cal also players had their best collegiate seasons under Tate in his first season at Cal in 2014 most notably defensive tackles Mustafa Jalil and Austin Clark who were major factors in the team's one-year improvement of 48 spots and 44 yards per game in rush defense to No. 38 nationally (144.6 ypg).

Jalil was one of only two defensive players to start all 12 games in 2014 and registered career highs with 35 tackles, 5.5 tackles for loss (-12 yards), 1.5 sacks (-8 yards) and two quarterback hurries which were the first of his collegiate career. He even became the first Cal player to be credited with individual points on a safety (rule change in 2014) when he tackled USC running back Justin Davis in the end zone of a game at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum. Jalil was a third-team preseason All-Pac-12 choice heading into his 2015 senior season.

A previously often-injured Clark earned honorable mention All-Pac-12 honors as a sixth-year senior in his first campaign under Tate in 2014 as he played in 11 games with 10 starts and contributed 22 of his 23 career tackles, as well as his lone 1.0 tackle for loss (-1 yard) and one quarterback hurry. Clark also earned Cal's Joe Roth Award given to the player who best exemplifies courage, sportsmanship and attitude.

Prior to his arrival at Cal he spent the 2013 season with Kaufman as the defensive tackles coach for a Cincinnati team that finished 9-4 overall and played in the Belk Bowl. Cincinnati's 2013 defense was one of the best in the country, ranking in the top 10 nationally in both rushing defense (6th, 104.5 ypg) and total defense (9th, 315.6 ypg). Cincinnati was also among the top 30 in 10 of the 11 primary defensive categories tracked in the national stats, including 14th in scoring defense (21.0 ppg), third-down conversion percentage defense (33.1%) and first downs defense (230); 23rd in sacks (2.69 spg) and red-zone defense (76.5%); 25th in team passing efficiency defense (116.75); 26th in tackles for loss (6.80 tflpg); and 29th in passing yards allowed (211.2 ypg).

Cincinnati defensive lineman Jordan Stepp earned first-team All-American Athletic Conference honors in the inaugural season of the league while fellow defensive lineman Silverberry Mouhon was a second-team selection. Mouhon (9.5) and Stepp (6.0) were first and second on the club in sacks, with Mouhon ranking third in the league in sacks per game (0.73 spg).

Tate also worked on Kaufman's defensive staff at Texas Tech in 2012, inheriting a 2011 unit that ranked 114th nationally in total defense (485.58 ypg) and improving them to 38th (367.31 ypg) while ranking second in the Big 12 Conference. Texas Tech was keyed by a pass defense that led the league and ranked 15th in the country (192.00 ypg). The Red Raiders finished 8-5 overall and were victorious over Minnesota at the Meineke Car Care Bowl.

Defensive lineman Kerry Hyder was a second-team All-Big 12 selection in 2012, leading the team with 14.0 tackles for loss, co-leading the squad with 6.0 sacks and ranking third on the club with 56 tackles. He tallied 10.5 tackles for loss during Big 12 play to rank third in the league. He is now a member of the Detroit Lions after spending most of the 2015 season on their practice squad and the 2014 campaign on the practice squad of the New York Jets.

In addition to his three previous tenures with Kaufman, Tate has been on coaching staffs at Marshall (2010-11), Tennessee-Chattanooga (2008-09), Southern Miss (2005-06), Middle Tennessee (2002), Southwest Texas State (2001), East Mississippi Community College (2000), Jacksonville State (1998-99) and East Central Community College (1997).

Marshall was victorious in the Beef 'O' Brady's Bowl over Florida International in Tate's final season with the Thundering Herd in 2011 when he coached the defensive line for a defense that ranked first in Conference USA and fifth nationally with an average of 7.85 tackles for loss per game. Marshall's defense was also among the nation's top 20 in fumbles recovered (T14th, 15), fourth-down efficiency (19th, 38.89%) and turnovers gained (T19th, 29), while defensive end Vinny Curry was a first-team All-American and the 2011 Conference USA Defensive Player of the Year as well as a first-team all-league choice. Curry capped his career in his second season under Tate in 2011 with huge numbers when he recorded 77 tackles, 22.0 tackles for loss (-110 yards) and 11.0 sacks (-69 yards). His per-game totals for tackles for loss (1.69 tflpg) and sacks (.85 spg) both ranked second in the league as well as fourth and tied for seventh nationally. Curry was selected in the second round of the 2012 NFL Draft by the Philadelphia Eagles and will be in his fifth season with the club in 2016 after signing a five-year deal worth up to $47.5 million with $23 million guaranteed in February of 2016.

In his first season with the Thundering Herd in 2010, Tate coached the safeties and saw two of his pupils, Donald Brown and Omar Brown, earn honorable mention All-Conference USA selections. Omar Brown played in the NFL for two seasons with the Baltimore Ravens in 2012 and 2013 with the 2012 club going on to win Super Bowl XLVII.

During his two campaigns at Tennessee-Chattanooga, Tate mentored 2009 third-team AP All-American, Southern Conference Defensive Player of the Year and first-team All-Southern Conference selection Josh Beard, who tied for the national lead in the Football College Subdivision (FCS) and equaled a school record with 12.0 sacks.

Tate coached on bowl staffs during each of his two seasons at Southern Miss with the Golden Eagles finishing with winning records each campaign. Southern Miss was 7-5 in 2005 and defeated Arkansas State in the New Orleans Bowl with defensive lineman Tom Johnson earning first-team All-Conference USA honors. USM finished 9-5 in 2006 and claimed the Conference USA East Division title, played Houston in the Conference USA Championship Game and defeated Ohio University in the GMAC Bowl.

Prior to his two seasons as an outside linebackers and special teams coach on the same staff as Kaufman at East Carolina from 2003-04, Tate served as the defensive line coach at Middle Tennessee in 2002 and Southwest Texas State in 2001, where he guided Clenton Ballard to first-team All-American status. Ballard spent time on NFL rosters with the Jacksonville Jaguars (2002) and San Diego Chargers (2004).

Tate's coaching career began in 1997 at East Central Community College in Mississippi where he coached tight ends and wide receivers. He moved to Jacksonville State in 1998 and served as the defensive line and special teams coach for two seasons with his 1998 squad posting a 7-4 overall record. While with the Gamecocks, he mentored future NFL player Mark Word, who spent time with the Kansas City Chiefs (1999) and Cleveland Browns (2001-03). The 2000 season saw Tate return to the junior college level, coaching the defensive line, and punting and kicking teams at East Mississippi Community College.

A native of Hattiesburg, Miss., Tate served in the United States Army enlisted in the United States Army and was a member of the elite airborne unit stationed at Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

Following his military service, Tate started his collegiate football career with two seasons at East Central Community College, where he was a JC Gridwire All-American selection as a 1994 sophomore and voted the Most Valuable Offensive Player of the National Junior College All-Star Game.

He continued his playing career at Southern Mississippi, where he was a defensive lineman in 1995 and 1996 for a Golden Eagles' team that was a charter member of Conference USA and won the league's first football championship with a 4-1 conference mark in his second and final season while finishing with an 8-3 overall record that included a victory over Georgia and a seven-game winning streak.

Tate earned his bachelor's degree in human performance from Southern Miss in 1997.

ASSISTANT COACHES

MARK TOMMERDAHL

Assistant Head Coach/Special Teams Coordinator, 4th Season

Mark Tommerdahl is in his fourth season as the special teams coordinator at Cal in 2016 and his second with the added duties as the program's assistant head coach. Tommerdahl has served on coaching staffs of 14 bowl teams as well as six league champions and two division winners at some of the top Division I football programs in the country over his first 32 seasons as a collegiate coach.

The Cal program has experienced a seven-win turnaround on the field over the last two seasons from a 1-11 record in 2013 to an 8-5 mark in 2015 that is tied for the second best in school history behind only the eight-win improvement from a 2-10 mark in 1946 to a 10-1 record in 1948.

Cal's 8-5 record in 2015 was the team's first eight-win season since the 2009 squad was also 8-5 with only 29 teams since the beginning of Cal football in 1882-83 winning eight or more and only 17 either nine or 10. Cal capped its 2015 season with its first bowl victory since 2008 in the Lockheed Martin Armed Forces Bowl with the spot in postseason play its first since 2011.

Tommerdahl's special teams unit have had several special moments during his Cal tenure including in a trio of games in 2015 including Matt Anderson's 26-yard field goal with no time remaining to lift the Golden Bears to a 48-46 comeback victory over Arizona State in the regular-season finale.

In his first season as the team's starter in 2015, Anderson made his final 12 regular-season field goal attempts, as well as 17 of his last 18 and 18-of-21 overall while leading the team with 104 points overall by adding 50-of-52 extra points. Anderson ranked third in the Pac-12 in field goal percentage (85.7%), sixth in PATs made (50) and tied for sixth in field goals made (1.38 fgmpg). The business administration major was also a first-team Pac-12 All-Academic choice with a 3.75 cumulative GPA that led the team for the third consecutive year.

Other notable special teams moments of the 2015 campaign came at Oregon and vs. Washington State.

Raymond Hudson and Hamilton Anoa'i blocked Oregon's only two punt attempts in a game in Eugene to make Cal one of the only two teams to block a pair of punts in 2015. Cal's total of three blocked punts in 2015 ranked tied for second nationally and led the Pac-12 with Matt Rockett recording the campaign's other block in the season-opener against Grambling State.

In a home victory over Washington State, Anderson's onside kick successfully recovered by Darius Powe was the only one by a Pac-12 team during the campaign.

The Bears also allowed only six punt returns to rank second nationally and set a school record with one less than the previous school-record low of seven during the 2014 campaign. The team's 62 punt return yards tied for the second-lowest in the nation.

In 2014, the Bears also several special moments including a game-winning field goal on the final play of a 59-56 double overtime victory against Colorado when James Langford nailed a 34-yarder in the second overtime. Trevor Davis had one of the most memorable games by an individual in the history of Cal football in 2014 in a wild 60-59 win at Washington State when he equaled NCAA and Pac-12 single-game records by becoming the 20th player in FBS history and the third in the Pac-12 to bring back two kick returns for touchdowns in a single game on consecutive kick returns of 100 and 98 yards. His 99.0 yards per return average was also a single-game school record and his 100-yard kick return the longest by a Cal player since 1999.

Tommerdahl's 2014 special teams units were highlighted by Davis, who averaged a single-season school-record 32.6 yards per kick return to rank second in the nation in 2014 and also tied for second nationally with a pair of kick returns for touchdowns to earn first-team All-Pac-12 honors from Phil Steele among a long list of honors.

In Tommerdahl's first season in 2013 placekicker Vincenzo D'Amato and punter Cole Leininger received All-Pac-12 honors after showing great improvement.

D'Amato was a second-team All-Pac-12 choice of the league's coaches and a third-team selection of Athlon and Phil Steele. He was also a national semifinalist for the Lou Groza Collegiate Place-Kicker Award, a final candidate for the Senior CLASS Award, an honorable mention Pac-12 All-Academic pick, and played in the NFLPA Collegiate Bowl following the season. D'Amato made 17-of-20 (85.0%) field goal attempts to rank tied for second in the Pac-12 and tied for 23rd nationally in field goal percentage. He was also tied for third in the conference and tied for 25th nationally in field goals made per game (1.42 fgmpg).

ASSISTANT COACHES

"I am incredibly fortunate to have Coach Tommerdahl as my special teams coach. He has pushed me to become both a better person and a better man. Having his experience on the sideline helps me perform to the best of my ability come gametime."

– Junior PK Matt Anderson

"Coach Tommerdahl is the type of coach you would want to go through a wall for."

– Senior ST Patrick Worstell

Leininger was a second-team All-Pac-12 selection according to College Sports Madness as a 2013 sophomore after his 42.9 yards per punt average that was a full three yards better than his 2012 mark and ranked third in the Pac-12 and 33rd nationally while checking in at eighth on Cal's all-time single-season list.

Leininger was Cal's starting punter for four seasons and posted a career 41.1 yards per punt average that ranked just percentage points outside Cal's career top 10. He was a member of the watch list for the Ray Guy Award honoring the nation's top punter during both his sophomore and junior campaigns, starting his junior season on the list after being added midseason as a sophomore. He was also an honorable mention Pac-12 All-Academic selection in each of his final three campaigns.

Cal opponents posted the lowest net punting average in the Pac-12 during both the 2014 (34.2) and 2015 (35.0) campaigns.

"Mark Tommerdahl is one of the elite special teams coaches in the country who has been a key member of staffs at the top level of college football," head coach Sonny Dykes said. "He has an impeccable track record in developing top specialists and producing some of the strongest special teams play in the nation. It's been a bit of a struggle on special teams since we've got here with our lack of depth and some of the injuries we've had to deal with. I don't think we've been satisfied with our teams up to this point, but I would expect us to be much improved this year. We're in a great spot right now. Matt Anderson had a good season individually last year as a kicker, and I think we're going to be good at punter. I think we also have an opportunity to have an outstanding return game. As we develop more and more depth on our football team, it's going to show in our special teams. We're still going to be a little bit young this year, but we're going to have the talent and depth that we need in order to be successful at this level. I think special teams will become one of the strengths of our ball club."

His assistant head coaching duties also include being the primary point of contact among the coaches for the academic support staff that has helped the program turn around previous academic deficiencies as evidenced by a single-season Academic Progress Rate (APR) score of 997 in the most recent data released by the NCAA in April of 2016. Cal's 997 APR for the 2014-15 academic year ties for the highest in the Pac-12 and the 19-point jump (941 to 960) in the multi-year rate from the previous report a year prior is the best among the conference's football programs.

Tommerdahl worked with the inside receivers on Cal's record-breaking offenses in both 2013 and 2014, while also coaching the team's fullbacks in 2014.

Prior to his arrival in Berkeley, Tommerdahl spent four seasons at Louisiana Tech from 2009-12, including the final three as the special teams coordinator and inside receivers coach under Dykes. During his tenure with the Bulldogs, he tutored a pair of All-Americans in two-time first-team selection punter Ryan Allen (2011, '12) and tight end Dennis Morris (2009), with Allen punting in all 48 regular-season games and seven postseason contests for the Super Bowl XLIX champion New England Patriots from 2013-15 after signing an undrafted free agent contract with the NFL team following his 2012 collegiate season.

In addition to leading the country in scoring offense and total offense with a unit that posted the fifth-highest per-game scoring average ever by a team in the Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS), Louisiana Tech was among the NCAA's top 20 in 2012 in passing offense (3rd, 350.75 ypg), fewest sacks allowed (7th, 0.83 spg), turnover margin (10th, +1.08 per game) and rushing offense (18th, 227.17 ypg). The Bulldogs scored more than 40 points in 11 of 12 games and over 50 points on eight occasions.

Louisiana Tech also led the nation in 2012 in net punting with a 43.51 average behind the performance of Allen, who became the first back-to-back and second two-time winner of the Ray Guy Award that was first given in 2000. Allen led the nation in punting in 2012 with a school-record 48.04 yards per punt average, punting 45 times for 2,162 yards. He had 21 punts of 50 yards or more, including the nation's longest punt of the season with an 85-yarder at New Mexico State. Allen also pinned opponents inside the 20-yard-line on 20 occasions with only five touchbacks.

Allen's 2012 campaign followed a 2011 season in which he was the only player from a non-BCS school to win a national award after averaging 46.12 yards per punt to rank fifth nationally. The Bulldogs were eighth in the country in net punting (40.12 ypg) and also led the nation in kickoff coverage.

In 2010, Louisiana Tech led the WAC and ranked 10th nationally in punt returns with an average of 13.63 yards per return, while ranking fourth in the conference and 25th nationally in kick returns (23.52 ypg). Much of the Bulldogs' prowess was due to the play of Phillip Livas, who led the WAC and ranked sixth nationally with an average of 15.50 yards per punt return. Livas was also fifth in the WAC and 49th nationally in kick returns with a 24.63 yard average. Livas played his final two seasons for Tommerdahl during a career in which he tied an NCAA all-time record with a combined eight kick and punt return touchdowns, bringing back four of each for scores.

Morris garnered All-American honors and was named the Tight End Performer of the Year by the College Football Performance Awards in 2009 with 38 catches for 623 yards receiving and 12 touchdown catches that were the most nationally among tight ends that season. In addition, Tommerdahl's punt return squad led the WAC and ranked 25th nationally (12.33 ypr).

Tommerdahl spent the 2008 season as an assistant head coach, special teams coordinator and tight ends coach at Louisiana-Monroe. He developed first-team All-Sun Belt tight end Kenneth Zacharie and also had a kickoff coverage team that led the conference.

For five seasons from 2003-07, Tommerdahl was the special teams coordinator and tight ends coach at Texas A&M. During his tenure with the Aggies, Tommerdahl helped lead the program to the Cotton Bowl (2004), Holiday Bowl (2006) and Alamo Bowl (2007).

Tommerdahl's special teams units at Texas A&M were also among the nation's best, ranking in the top 25 in the nation in net punting in 2006 (37.00 nypp, 25th) and 2007 (39.17 nypp, 5th), and in kickoff returns in 2003 (23.90 ypr, 10th), 2006 (26.08 ypr, 3rd) and 2007 (23.54 ypr, 20th). He coached current New England Patriots tight end Martellus Bennett, who has been in the NFL since 2008 after ending his Texas A&M career as the program's all-time leader at the position in receptions and yards receiving. During the 2005 season at Texas A&M, Tommerdahl coached a pair of Freshman All-Americans in Bennett and punter Justin Brantly.

Tommerdahl spent the 2001 and 2002 seasons at Alabama as the program's special teams coordinator and tight ends coach, helping the Crimson Tide to the 2001 Independence Bowl and 2002 SEC West Division title when the squad finished 11th in the final AP Top 25.

Tommerdahl also served as the special teams coordinator and tight ends coach during stints at TCU (1998-2000), New Mexico (1997) and Minnesota (1995-96), coaching a Lou Groza Award semifinalist at all three schools. He also had recruiting coordinator duties at Minnesota..

A native of Fergus Falls, Minn., Tommerdahl began his collegiate coaching career in 1984 with a two-year stint as a graduate assistant at Wyoming, where he ended up staying 11 seasons serving in numerous capacities.

Tommerdahl earned a bachelor's degrees in business and physical education from Concordia College in Minnesota in 1983, and an MBA with an emphasis in marketing from Wyoming in 1986. He is married to the former Annette Jondahl.

ASSISTANT COACHES

DAMON HARRINGTON

Head Strength and Conditioning Coach, 4th Season

Damon Harrington is in his fourth season at Cal as the head strength and conditioning coach for the football program in 2016. Harrington oversees all aspects of the Cal football strength and conditioning program year-round on a day-to-day basis and supervises five assistant strength and conditioning coaches in his role.

"Damon is one of the best strength and conditioning coaches in college football," head coach Sonny Dykes said. "He's the consummate team player and has an outstanding work ethic. He just wants to make the kids better, get the most out of them and develop them. I don't know that I've ever seen a group of people that respond better to Damon than our players. The players love him, respect him and work incredibly hard for him. He's done an incredible job of building our culture in the weight room."

"He has helped our student-athletes make tremendous strides in their strength, speed and fitness," Dykes added. "In college football today with the amount of time strength and conditioning coaches spend with the student-athletes their roles are as critical and important as anyone on your staff. Damon is exactly who we want in that role. He has a no-nonsense blue-collar personality and demands a lot from players but at the same time cares deeply about them. They have a tremendous amount of respect for him as a person and his knowledge and ability to teach and make them better."

Harrington has been instrumental in the team's seven-win turnaround on the field over the last two seasons from a 1-11 record in 2013 to an 8-5 mark in 2015 that is tied for the second best in school history behind only the eight-win improvement from a 2-10 mark in 1946 to a 10-1 record in 1948.

Harrington focuses on designing a program to prepare Cal's players to be as physically and mentally tough as possible in order to play hard for four quarters and make the plays at the end of games that ultimately lead to victory.

The team's conditioning level has paid with seven comeback victories during the 2014 and 2015 seasons including four in the fourth quarter while the team has also won four games determined by plays in the final two minutes including twice on its final play and its lone overtime contest.

Cal trailed in four of its seven regular-season victories in 2015, including twice in the second half and once in the fourth quarter. The most dramatic victory a 48-46 win over Arizona State in the regular-season finale when the Bears rallied from a 24-3 second-quarter deficit to stage their biggest comeback win since coming from behind for a 42-36 victory at the 2007 Armed Forces Bowl after trailing 21-0. The Bears also rallied for a 34-28 victory over Washington State in 2015 after trailing 21-7 in the second quarter and twice by eight points in the second half. The Bears also trailed in the first half in wins over San Diego State and Texas.

In each of their final three wins of 2014 against Colorado, Washington State and Oregon State the Bears trailed at one point in the fourth quarter.

Harrington implemented the Swagger Games that have become a staple of the team's strength and conditioning workouts in January of 2014 during his first full offseason at Cal and in addition to the physical conditioning prowess the team has gained the program has helped football student-athletes develop a great sense of pride, teamwork and camaraderie both in and out of the weight

ASSISTANT COACHES

"Coach Damon's a real down-to-earth person. He doesn't blow smoke. He'll give it to you the way it is. That's something I've appreciated about my time at Cal. There's a lot of mutual respect with us and the staff. We work hard but it's actually fun. We see each other getting the best out of themselves and the team, and it's a contagious energy."

– Junior LB Raymond Davison

"I've always viewed Damon as like a father figure and I've always enjoyed the relationship and his approach in life. This strength staff, they haven't just made us better on the strength side but also on the mental side, promoting and transforming us into men, where we can take on different challenges in life and maintain that same kind of focus in everything we do in life, always trying to improve ourselves and support each other to make it through."

– Junior RB Fabiano Hale

"I've been here going into my third year and I feel like I've become really close with Coach Damon and his staff. I feel like I can go to them for any problems – not just strength and conditioning but about anything. They really want you to be comfortable as a player and person. I have that trust with them and they have that trust with me, so there's a lot of mutual respect."

– Sophomore WR Chad Hansen

room. The program features football student-athletes incorporating six areas of competition (academic, agility, combative, self-discipline, speed, strength) into a program designed to improve leadership and mental fortitude.

"The response from our players has been great," Harrington said. "It's all about developing mental fortitude and toughness as well as leadership. We have seen our players grow and become more of a team since the implementation of this program. We put them into leadership roles and have watched them take control of their teams."

Harrington credits the staff he has built at Cal for much of the success.

"The staff dynamic is awesome," Harrington said. "It is probably the best I've been around. I picture our staff kind of like a quilt. When you look at a quilt every square is just a little bit different but at the end of the day it encompasses a wide variety of things and comes together as one."

Harrington had two stints as the head strength and conditioning coach at his alma mater Louisiana Tech prior to his arrival at Cal, serving in the role from 2006 through the team's 2013 spring workouts and also from 2002-03 after spending two previous seasons as an assistant in the Bulldogs' strength and conditioning program (2000-01). He was also the assistant director of player development at Georgia Tech from 2004-05.

Harrington was instrumental in improving Louisiana Tech's strength and conditioning program, with Bulldog football players breaking 26 strength records (by position) during his final seven years with the school. During the same period, Louisiana Tech had seven fourth-quarter come-from-behind wins. During his time at Louisiana Tech, Harrington and his staff implemented the Dawg Fight Program, which incorporated ATTITUDE, TEAM, DISCIPLINE, TOUGHNESS and EFFORT.

Harrington began his collegiate playing career at Louisiana Tech as a walk-on in 1995 before earning a scholarship his sophomore season. He started every game at linebacker during his final two campaigns and combined to make 243 tackles in those two seasons with 121 stops in 1998 and 122 in 1999. Harrington earned All-Louisiana honors both campaigns, while also being named to the All-Independent team by Football News as a 1999 senior.

Harrington earned his bachelor's degree from Louisiana Tech in fitness and wellness in 2000 and completed his master's degree from the school in sports science in 2002. Harrington holds a certification in strength and conditioning from the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association (CSCCa).

Harrington and his wife, Meg, have one son, Luke, and one daughter, Addie.

BIG GAME HISTORY & RECORDS

BIG GAME HISTORY

On Nov. 19, 2016, California and Stanford will play the 119th Big Game to continue one of the greatest rivalries in college football. The series, which dates back to 1892, is tied for the sixth-longest active running series and tied for the eighth-longest overall between Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS) teams and has featured some of the most memorable finishes in the history of the sport.

Cal enters this year's matchup at Kabam Field at California Stadium trailing the all-time series, 61-46-11.

The status of the rivalry as one of the truly great sporting spectacles across the country was undoubtedly established in the very first game, when Stanford upset Cal, 14-10, on March 19, 1892, in a contest played on a field at the corner of Haight and Stanyan streets in San Francisco. Stanford manager Herbert C. Hoover, later to become the 31st president of the United States, and his Cal counterpart counted the gate receipts and reported a then-staggering sum of $30,000.

The game continued to grow in popularity with capacity crowds becoming the norm. In 1923, Cal opened Memorial Stadium with a 9-0 win over Stanford to cap an undefeated season. Stanford and Cal also opened Stanford Stadium in 1921 with the Bears winning, 42-7, en route to the Rose Bowl.

Cal achieved great success in the series under Pappy Waldorf, who retired with a 7-1-2 record vs. Stanford from 1947-56. The 1949 game was highlighted by Jim Monachino's 84-yard run – still the longest rush by a Cal player in Big Game history

The Cal-Stanford series has been a remarkably close rivalry, with the Big Game having been determined by a touchdown or less 52 times.

Five Big Games have been won on the final play, starting with the 1972 meeting in Berkeley. Cal faced fourth down from the Stanford seven-yardline with three seconds to go. But Vince Ferragamo completed a touchdown pass to a diving Steve Sweeney, giving the Bears a 24-21 win.

Two years later, Stanford's Mike Langford booted a 50-yard field goal as time expired to lift the Cardinal to a 22-20 decision over the Golden Bears.

In 1982, Cal won on a five-lateral, 57-yard kickoff return that will forever be remembered as "The Play." Trailing 20-19, the Bears received Stanford's kick with just four seconds left. Cal proceeded to travel the length of the field and march through the Stanford Band to produce an improbable 25-20 victory.

The Cardinal prevailed in 1990 by scoring nine points in the final 12 seconds. John Hopkins connected on a 37-yard field goal as time ran out for a 27-25 win.

For the 100th renewal of the series, the teams donned uniforms representative of the ones they wore more than a half-century earlier. On the night prior to the contest on Nov. 21, 1997, a gala event dubbed the "Big Auction" raised more than $1 million in scholarship funds for each school.

Finally, in 2000, Cal and Stanford played the first overtime game in the history of the series, with the Cardinal emerging 36-30 winners when Randy Fasani found Casey Moore for a 25-yard score in the extra period.

In last year's Big Game at Stanford Stadium, Stanford was a 35-22 winner, increasing its winning streak in the series to six for the first time since enjoying a seven-game win streak from 1995-2001.

Cal won seven of eight meetings from 2002-09.

THE STANFORD AXE

The Stanford Axe, the trophy awarded to the winner of the Big Game every year, actually made its debut on the eve of a baseball game between the rival universities on April 13, 1899. On that afternoon at a pre-game rally, a group of Stanford students introduced the instrument to decapitate a straw man adorned in California blue and gold, much to the delight of the Indian faithful who chanted "Give 'em the axe" while the proceedings continued.

The next day, Stanford rooters taunted their Cal counterparts by cutting pieces of blue and gold ribbon with The Axe and by using it to chop at a designated piece of wood whenever the Indians made a good play.

Cal rallied for an upset over Stanford and the Golden Bear fans were so overcome with emotion that a group of Cal men wrestled The Axe away from the Stanford students and smuggled it across the bay via ferry. The Axe was placed in a safe at a Berkeley bank, to be removed once a year for the Axe Rally.

By 1933, both sides decided that The Axe would make an ideal Big Game trophy. It was mounted on a plaque that lists the scores of each game since 1933.

BOWL HISTORY

ROSE BOWL

JANUARY 1, 1921

CALIFORNIA 28
OHIO STATE 0

College football may never again witness the sheer dominance displayed by California's legendary "Wonder Teams" of the 1920s, and the 1920 football team, in particular, will forever be remembered as one of the sport's all-time great teams. Under the genius of coach Andy Smith, the Golden Bears completely dismantled opponents en route to an 8-0 record and made their first appearance in the Rose Bowl. Despite their record and having outscored opponents by a total margin of 482-14, the Bears entered the contest as an underdog. Possibly because some Easterners had not yet developed much respect for sutdent-athletes on the West Coast, a respected Ohio State team was predicted to beat Cal by six points.

The Bears wasted little time in refuting such predictions, as Pesky Sprott scored a touchdown early in the first quarter to give California a 7-0 lead. Smith's team was able to score two more touchdowns in the second quarter while a ferocious Bear defense held Ohio State scoreless for a 21-0 halftime lead. One of the scores came on a piece of Wonder Team trickery, as Sprott pitched the ball to end Brick Muller on a reverse who heaved the ball over 50 yards to Brodie Stephens for the touchdown. That play helped Cal break the game open and is thought of as one of the most famous plays in the history of the Rose Bowl. The Bears subsequently earned the unofficial national title.

WASHINGTON & JEFFERSON 0

California's Wonder Team of 1921 defeated every opponent they faced in the regular season, scoring a total of 167 points against conference opponents while only allowing 10. California took a 9-0 record into its second straight Rose Bowl, and although the Bears were predicted to record an easy victory, steady rains had reduced the field to a quagmire, and coach Andy Smith predicted a 0-0 tie. The Bears were fortunate to escape with that, as they only gained 49 yards in total offense and had two first downs while Washington and Jefferson had a 36-yard touchdown run called back on an offside penalty. The Bears original strategy to use a wide-open passing attack was impossible given the condition of the field, and they instead had to rely entirely on power. The results were almost disastrous for the Bears, but Archie Nisbet averaged 39.7 yards on 13 punts and deserved much credit for keeping the Presidents from the end zone.

Washington and Jefferson had a distinct advantage in maturity as most of the men on its team were older than the average college player, and California originally objected to having to play a team from a school whose scholarship requirements were far below that of California. The relatively unknown school representing the East was able to keep the Bears from scoring in the swamp-like condition of the field and put an end to California's winning streak at 18 games.

GEORGIA TECH 8
CALIFORNIA 7

The Rose Bowl of 1929 will be remembered forever as one of the most amazing and most talked about games played in the history of collegiate football. California faced an undefeated Georgia Tech squad in a very closely contested battle that was made most memorable thanks to a single play by California's Roy Riegels. After a scoreless first quarter, the Bears threatened by moving the ball to Georgia Tech's 25-yard-line. They were unable to get any farther, however, and possession was lost on downs. The next play became one of the most famous (or infamous) of all time. Riegels, California's All-American center, placed his name in the game's lore when Georgia Tech's Stumpy Thomason was hit by the Bears' Benny Lom at the Georgia Tech 30. Riegels scooped up the fumble and started in the right direction, but suddenly he spun around and headed the wrong way. Riegels had reached the Cal one-yard-line before Lom was able to spin him back around, only to be tackled by Georgia Tech. The play led to a safety when the Engineers blocked Lom's subsequent punt.

Georgia Tech had a 2-0 lead at halftime, then scored again in the third quarter for an 8-0 lead going into the fourth quarter. The Bears finally scored late in the fourth quarter when Lom passed to Irv Phillips in the end zone.

ALABAMA 0

California returned to the Rose Bowl with the "Thunder Team" of 1937. With a devastating offensive backfield and a rock-solid defense, the Golden Bears trampled their opponents in the regular season, posting a 9-0-1 record and scoring a total of 201 points while allowing only 33. The Bears, under coach Stub Allison, recorded six shutouts against opponents and utilized a punishing ground game which not only earned the team the nickname "The Thunder Team" but landed the undefeated squad a berth in the Rose Bowl.

In the Rose Bowl of 1938, the Bears recorded an impressive victory over Alabama, 13-0. California relied on its brilliant backfield of Vic Bottari and Sam Chapman to pave the way on offense. And on defense, the Bears rendered the Crimson Tide offense ineffective, holding Alabama scoreless. Following a fumble recovery by Perry Schwartz in the second quarter, the Bears marched 61 yards and scored on a four-yard run by Bottari. The only other score came early in the third quarter, when Bottari added a second touchdown on another four-yard run, making the final margin 13-0. California had completed an undefeated season for the first time since the Wonder Teams of the 1920s, and was rewarded with its most recent national championship.

NORTHWESTERN 20
CALIFORNIA 14

Pappy Waldorf will always be remembered as one of the greatest coaches ever at California, and his 1948 team was the first of three consecutive squads he would lead to the Rose Bowl. The Bears of 1948 crushed their opponents en route to an undefeated 10-win regular season and a berth in the Rose Bowl of 1949. The Bears scored nearly three times as many total points as they allowed, and proved themselves as the top team on the West Coast.

The Rose Bowl of 1949 was billed as a battle of wits, as it pitted Pappy Waldorf against one of his former players, Northwestern coach Bob Voights. It proved to be an outstanding game, as the Bears matched the running of Jackie Jensen and Jack Swaner against Frank Aschenbrenner, Ed Tunnicliff and Art Murakowski of Northwestern. Aschenbrenner opened the scoring with a 73-yard touchdown run in the first quarter, but Jensen returned the favor with a 67-yard scoring run of his own on the next series. The game may have been decided on a controversial touchdown in the second quarter, when Murakowski scored from one yard out as he fumbled into the end zone. With Jensen sidelined by leg cramps, the Bears took the lead, 14-13, in the third quarter on a run by Swaner. Northwestern came back, however, to score the winning touchdown on a 43-yard run by Tunnicliff with 2:59 left in the game. Although the Bears lost the game, the final Associated Press Poll still ranked California fourth in the nation.

ROSE BOWL

OHIO STATE 17
CALIFORNIA 14

The Golden Bears entered the 1950 Rose Bowl with a perfect 10-0 regular season record and what many considered to be the West Coast's finest post-World War II team. Under coach Pappy Waldorf, the 1949 Bears were an even more dominant team than the previous year's Rose Bowl team. Cal scored an average of over 30 points per contest while only allowing slightly over 11 points per game in the regular season.

The Bears had built a 7-0 halftime lead on a seven-yard run by Jim Monachino, but Ohio State scored 14 unanswered points to open a 14-7 lead at the end of the third quarter. Monachino stunned the Buckeyes early in the final period when his 44-yard touchdown run tied the score at 14-14, but the Bears were to be denied once again. A bad punt by Bob Celeri gave Ohio State the ball deep in California territory late in the game and Ohio State's Jim Hague kicked a 17-yard game-winning field goal with 1:57 left in the contest. The Bears had managed to lose two consecutive Rose Bowls, but if it was any consolation, the final Associated Press Poll ranked the Golden Bears third in the country.

MICHIGAN 14
CALIFORNIA 6

Pappy Waldorf took his Golden Bears team of 1950 to a third consecutive Rose Bowl. Again the Bears entered the Rose Bowl as an undefeated team that had laid waste to the Pacific Coast Conference. And once again California's string of hard luck Rose Bowl defeats continued. The Bears appeared ready to give coach Waldorf his first post-season victory, as they entered the game with a 9-0-1 record, having outscored opponents 218-76 during the regular season.

On the third play of the game, Pete Schabarum exploded on a 73-yard touchdown run that was wiped out because of a penalty. The Bears went ahead 6-0 in the second quarter on a 39-yard touchdown pass from Jim Marinos to Bob Cummings, and it looked as if the Bears might get that elusive Rose Bowl victory. After halftime, however, the Wolverines dominated the action and with only 5:37 left in the game, Michigan took its first lead. Moments later they added a second touchdown to secure a 14-6 win.

Although Pappy was never able to lead California to a Rose Bowl victory, the Golden Bears compiled a 53-9-1 record under coach Waldorf from 1947-52. Even after the Bears lost to Michigan in 1951, California was ranked as high as the fourth best team in the nation in the final polls (No. 4 UPI, No. 5 AP), making it three straight seasons that the Bears had finished among the top five teams in the country.

ROSE BOWL

IOWA 38
CALIFORNIA 12

California's last Rose Bowl appearance was one that many Old Blues would like to forget. Behind quarterback Joe Kapp and halfback Jack Hart, the Bears defeated both USC and UCLA en route to a 7-3 regular season record and the Pacific Coast Conference title. Cal was the premier team on the West Coast and on January 1, 1959, the Bears faced Iowa in the Rose Bowl.

Cal wasn't given much of a chance of upending Iowa and that played out true to form as the Hawkeyes recorded a convincing 38-12 victory. The Bears could do little to stop Iowa's powerful rushing game, as the Hawkeyes broke the Rose Bowl record for rushing yardage (429) and total offense (516). Iowa's Bob Jeter erased another Rose Bowl record with an 81-yard touchdown run and finished with 194 yards on only nine carries. Iowa had a commanding 20-0 halftime lead, then increased it to 32-6 after three quarters. Hart was able to score a pair of second half TDs on two runs, but it was hardly enough to turn the tide.

GARDEN STATE BOWL

DECEMBER 15, 1979

TEMPLE 28
CALIFORNIA 17

California returned to post-season play for the first time in 20 years at the 1979 Garden State Bowl. Behind quarterback Rich Campbell, Cal featured a good offense and a solid defense that only yielded 15 points per contest in the regular season. The Bears won their first two and last two games of the year, all on the road, including impressive victories over Washington State and Stanford to bring home the Axe.

Facing Temple in the Garden State Bowl was no easy task for the Bears, as California failed to answer the Owls' rushing attack and suffered a 28-17 defeat. The Owls took control of the game early, scoring on their first three possessions to open a 21-0 first quarter lead. Campbell put the Bears back in the game on a pair of second quarter touchdown passes to Matt Bouza and Joe Rose. The scored remained 21-14 Temple until the fourth quarter when Mick Luckhurst's 34-yard field goal pulled California within four at 21-17. That was as close as the Bears were able to come, however, as Temple scored another touchdown late in the game to secure the win.

COPPER BOWL

CALIFORNIA 17
WYOMING 15

The 1990 Golden Bears surprised the college football world by refuting predictions that they would be a last place team, capturing a 6-4-1 record and finishing in the top half of the conference for the first time since 1979. Perhaps most memorable in the regular season, California put an end to "The Streak" by beating UCLA at Memorial Stadium and making a late rally to tie USC in Los Angeles. Under coach Bruce Snyder, the Bears awakened from their hibernation of the 1980s and were hungry for their first bowl victory in more than half a century.

The Bears offense, which was very potent during the regular season, had its poorest showing of the season, netting only 261 total yards. Fortunately, California's defense rose to the occasion to yield a season-low 15 points. Quarterback Mike Pawlawski fired a 25-yard touchdown pass to Brian Treggs in the second quarter to give the Bears a lead they would never relinquish. Robbie Keen nailed a 46-yard field goal in the third quarter, and fullback Greg Zomalt bulled into the end zone from four yards out early in the fourth as the Bears built a 17-9 advantage. In the final minutes of the game, the Bears had to hold off a Cowboy rally that included a 70-yard punt return for a touchdown. However, California stuffed the two-point conversion attempt to seal the victory.

CITRUS BOWL

CLEMSON 13

Led by Mike Pawlawski and Russell White, the Golden Bears put more points on the board than any California squad since the Wonder Team of 1920. The Bears brought a 9-2 record into their first Jan. 1 bowl game in 33 years, capping a season in which they scored a modern-day record 86 points against Pacific, won dramatic come-from-behind games at Arizona and UCLA, and scored more points than any team in history against USC, a 52-30 whipping at Memorial Stadium.

California faced a very tough Clemson squad that had one of the strongest defenses in college football. The Bears, however, exploding for 17 first quarter points to leap to open a comfortable lead before the Tigers knew what hit them. Among the first quarter highlights was a 72-yard punt return for a touchdown by Brian Treggs that just about crushed any hope Clemson had of a comeback victory, as a ferocious Bear defense kept the Tigers at bay for the rest of the afternoon. White rushed for a 103 yards on 22 carries against a run defense that had not allowed a 100-yard runner in nearly four years, and the Golden Bears proved to a national television audience that they were indeed one of the elite Top 10 teams in the nation.

Riding a roller coaster of a regular season that began with five straight wins only to be followed by four consecutive losses and then three more victories, California received a bid to the inaugural Alamo Bowl in San Antonio, Texas. The Bears scored on four of their first five possessions and completely shut down the Iowa offensive attack, limiting the Hawkeyes to just 90 yards of total offense in the 37-3 victory.

After three Doug Brien field goals gave Cal a 9-0 lead 20 minutes into the contest, quarterback Dave Barr hit Mike Caldwell for a six-yard score. Linebacker Jerrott Willard followed by picking off a pass and rumbling 61 yards for the touchdown as time ran out in the first half to give Cal a 23-0 margin heading to the locker room. Barr, who passed for two more scores in the second half to Iheanyi Uwaezuoke and Brian Remington, finished the game 21-of-28 for 266 yards, while Lindsey Chapman led the rushing attack with 89 yards. As a team, the Bears ended the contest with an impressive time of possession advantage of 43:14 to 16:46. The victory lifted Cal into the final national polls (No. 24 Coaches/No. 25 AP).

NAVY 42
CALIFORNIA 38

In a game that followed a pattern established throughout the season, Cal provided plenty of offensive fireworks, but couldn't hold on in a 42-38 loss to Navy at the Aloha Bowl. Cal seemed to have the game well in hand with a 10-point lead late in the contest, but Navy rallied for a pair of touchdowns in the final eight minutes.

The game got off to a bang when Cal's Deltha O'Neal returned the opening kickoff 100 yards for a score. Then the Bears settled into their offense, seeming to score at will in the first half, putting together drives of 81, 73, 35 and 61 yards en route to taking a 35-28 halftime lead. Quarterback Pat Barnes threw for three scores, two to wideout Bobby Shaw and one to tight end Sean Bullard, and O'Neal added a 31-yard TD scamper.

However, Cal could manage only a 41-yard Ryan Longwell field goal in the second half, before Navy put on its late rush that culminated on a 10-yard game-winning TD run by backup QB Ben Fay with 1:41 left in the contest.

VIRGINIA TECH 49

After 98 points and 1,081 yards of offense, the Insight Bowl came down to a 35-yard field goal try, and Tyler Fredrickson made the final kick of his Cal career as time expired to give the Bears a 52-49 victory over Virginia Tech.

Cal's Aaron Rodgers flirted with 400 yards passing in an aerial duel that saw both teams rally from 14-point deficits. Rodgers was 27-of-35 passing for 394 yards and two TDs. He also ran for two scores and was named the game's offensive MVP.

Chase Lyman, starting in place of injured wide receiver Geoff McArthur, caught five passes for a Cal bowl-record 149 yards, including a 33-yarder from Rodgers for a touchdown.

Rodgers, who was 15-for-17 for 245 yards in the second half, scored on an eight-yard option play to put Cal ahead 42-28 with 48 seconds left in the third quarter. Virginia Tech came back as DeAngelo Hall reversed his field for a 52-yard punt return TD that tied the game at 49-49 with 3:11 remaining.

The winning drive came after Virginia Tech's subsequent kickoff went out of bounds, giving Cal the ball on the 35. Rodgers completed three passes to the Hokie 20-yard line, and a five-yard run by J.J. Arrington set up Fredrickson's winning field goal on the game's final play.

TEXAS TECH 45
CALIFORNIA 31

Perhaps pining for a Rose Bowl bid that was snatched away by voters in the final week, Cal came up against the vaunted Texas Tech aerial attack led by Sonny Cumbie and fell, 45-31, in the Pacific Life Holiday Bowl. Cumbie threw for a career-high 520 yards and three touchdowns, as 21st-ranked Texas Tech upended the Golden Bears.

Cal's J.J. Arrington became just the third running back in Pac-10 history and the first for California to rush for 2,000 yards in a season when he reached the milestone against the Red Raiders. The senior carried 25 times for 173 yards against Tech to finish the year with a school-record 2,018 yards. His two-yard run in the first quarter was his 15th rushing touchdown of the year, breaking Cal's season record that has later been tied by Justin Forsett (2007) and Jahvid Best (2008).

Tech had four scoring drives that took under two minutes each. Trailing 14-7 after the first quarter, the Red Raiders scored 24 straight points and held a commanding 31-14 lead by early in the third quarter.

Cal quarterback Aaron Rodgers threw an 11-yard TD pass to Garrett Cross and scored on a 1-yard sneak, both in the final quarter.

Marshawn Lynch rushed for career highs of 194 yards and three touchdowns to win the game's MVP award, and DeSean Jackson caught two scoring passes before Cal's defense held off BYU for a 35-28 victory.

Junior Steve Levy passed for 228 yards in his second career start for the Bears, who held off BYU's fourth-quarter comeback in a high-octane game that featured 915 total yards.

Cal took a 35-14 lead into the final quarter after Lynch's 35-yard scoring run and Jackson's exceptional 22-yard diving TD catch in the third. But BYU quarterback John Beck responded with scoring passes to Jonny Harline and Todd Watkins, whose nine-yard grab with 5:35 left cut Cal's lead to the final seven-point margin.

The Bears missed a 50-yard field goal with 2:20 to play in the fourth, but the Cougars moved just seven yards before Beck's arm was hit by Cal lineman Phillip Mbakogu on the ensuing series. Daymeion Hughes intercepted the wobbling pass to seal the victory.

The Bears' stars were the difference. Jackson scored on a 42-yard romp through the BYU secondary three seconds before halftime, while Lynch had scoring runs of 3, 23 and 35 yards along with a handful of jaw-dropping second-effort rushes. His 194 yards rushing and three touchdowns on the ground also were Cal bowl records.

California posted its largest margin of victory in its bowl history with a 45-10 win over Texas A&M.

In his final game in a Golden Bear uniform, Marshawn Lynch rushed for 111 yards and two touchdowns to earn the game's co-offensive MVP honors. Justin Forsett was the game's leading rusher with 124 yards, and also found the end zone in the fourth quarter on an eight-yard dash.

Quarterback Nate Longshore completed 19-of-24 passes for 235 yards and a touchdown, en route to co-offensive MVP honors. Longshore also scored a touchdown on the ground in the first quarter to even the score at 7-7.

Not to be overshadowed by the offense, linebacker Desmond Bishop recorded a game-high 12 tackles to earn the game's Defensive MVP honors.

The Cal defensive unit was spectacular, allowing just 10 points, including a shutout in the second half. San Diego native Mickey Pimentel recorded seven tackles, while Eddie Young intercepted a pass (his first career INT) in the fourth quarter to highlight the other defensive notables.

California scored its largest comeback victory in a bowl game with a 42-36 win over Air Force.

The Falcons' crisp option offense kept the Golden Bears guessing through the first 20 minutes as Air Force scored on two drives, then pushed in another seven points after a Bear miscue on a kickoff.

However, with Cal backup quarterback Kevin Riley stepping in under center, the Cal offense came to life. The freshman signal-caller connected with DeSean Jackson for a 40-yard score and found fellow standout receivers Lavelle Hawkins and Robert Jordan for touchdowns to pull the Bears within three, 24-21, midway through the third quarter.

Cal ran a relentless ground attack behind tailback Justin Forsett, who scored a pair of TDs before Riley put the game away with a nifty option run for a 42-30 advantage.

Riley earned MVP honors by connecting on 16-of-19 passes for 269 yards and three TDs. Forsett tallied 140 yards rushing and Thomas DeCoud paced the defense with 10 tackles. Jordan caught six catches for 148 yards.

CALIFORNIA 24

California played its first bowl game ever in the Bay Area and made its hometown fans happy with a 24-17 victory over Miami, Fla.

Cal jumped out to an early 14-0 first quarter lead on a pair of Jahvid Best touchdown runs but Miami eventually came back to tie the contest at 17-17 in the fourth quarter. The game remained tied until late in regulation when Nate Longshore connected with Anthony Miller on a two-yard scoring strike with 2:37 to go. The winning touchdown was set up moments earlier when Zack Follett forced a fumble deep in Hurricane territory and Cameron Jordan returned it to the Miami two-yard line.

Miami was able to put together eight plays on an ensuing drive but time ran out on the Hurricanes after reaching the Bears' 37-yard line.

Best capped a tremendous season for Cal by rushing for an Emerald Bowl record 186 yards and two touchdowns, marking his fourth consecutive 100-yard rushing game and eighth of the season.

The Golden Bears also set several other school bowl records, including the team's 10.0 tackles for loss, Follett's bowl-record-tying 4.0 tackles for loss and 2.0 sacks, a 74-yard first quarter passing play between Longshore and Verran Tucker, and Jordan's seven-yard fumble return.

The Golden Bears jumped out to a two-touchdown lead but could not prevail as Utah's Jordan Wynn threw for a career-high 338 yards and three touchdowns to rally the Utes to a 37-27 victory over California in the Poinsettia Bowl.

The Bears, in a bowl game for the school-record seventh straight year, had their four-game postseason winning streak snapped. The Utes scored 27 straight points to win their ninth straight bowl game, the longest streak in the country and tied for the second-longest ever following the 2009 season.

Shane Vereen, who scored twice, became the seventh Cal back to gain more than 100 yards in a bowl, finishing with 122 yards on 20 carries. Vereen started the scoring with a 36-yard touchdown run and Eddie Young intercepted Wynn on the first play of Utah's next drive, returning it 31 yards for a score.

But Utah's defense shut down Cal while the Utes offense on its last four possessions of the first half. Cal finally scored again on a 1-yard run by Vereen with 39 seconds left in the third quarter to put the Bears within six at 27-21 before Utah kicked a 25-yard field goal to pull away.

Playing in the Holiday Bowl for the third time in school history, the Longhorns topped the Golden Bears, 21-10, in the 2011 Bridgepoint Education Holiday Bowl at Qualcomm Stadium in San Diego, CA. In addition, Cal fell to 0-5 all-time against Texas.

The Bears jumped out to an early 3-0 lead on a 47-yard field goal by Giorgio Tavecchio, but the Bears could only manage one more score in the contest. Isi Sofele scampered six yards for Cal's lone touchdown of the game on the opening drive of the second half to take a brief 10-7 lead.

Texas quarterback David Ash added his name to the list of quarterbacks who've caught a touchdown pass in the Holiday Bowl and he also threw for one score. Ash caught a 4-yard pass from wide receiver Jaxon Shipley in the second quarter to join BYU's Steve Young, Texas A&M's Bucky Richardson and Oregon's Harrington as quarterbacks who've caught touchdown passes in the Holiday Bowl. Ash would later throw a 47-yard touchdown pass to Marquise Goodwin, who made a nice over-the-shoulder catch in full stride. That score gave the Longhorns a 14-10 lead and proved to clinch the win for Texas.

Keenan Allen led the Bears with nine catches for 82 yards.

AIR FORCE 36

A 55-36 victory over Air Force in the 2015 Lockheed Martin Armed Forces Bowl followed a familiar script for a Cal program that took serious strides in 2015. Yet another tremendous performance from quarterback Jared Goff paved the way and the Bears followed his lead, rolling to their eighth win of the season for the first time since 2009.

As was often the case for the Bears this year, Goff was the main character in Cal's story of success, completing 25 of 37 passes for 467 yards, six touchdowns and no interceptions to earn game MVP honors. Along the way, he set Pac-12 single season records for passing touchdowns (43) and yards (4,719) while setting a Cal bowl record and tying his career high for touchdowns in a single game. His touchdown total also tied for second-most in Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS) bowl history.

Goff's focus wasn't confined to one or two main targets. Kenny Lawler found the end zone three times, hauling in five passes for 75 yards while senior Bryce Treggs made his final collegiate game a memorable one with four catches for 143 yards and a touchdown. Fellow senior Darius Powe caught two touchdown passes and nine different Bears caught a pass and Cal (8-5) racked up 586 yards of total offense while breaking the school record for points in a bowl game of 52 (2003 Insight Bowl vs. Virginia Tech).

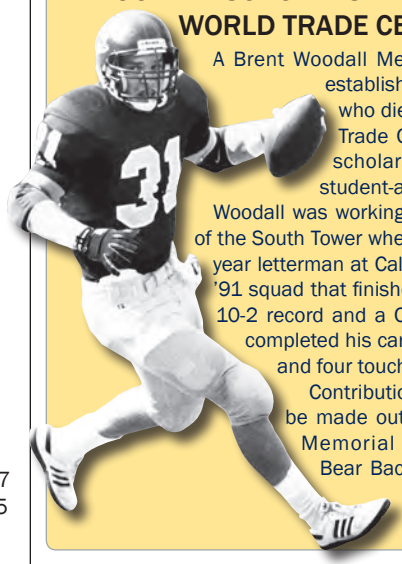
WOODALL SCHOLARSHIP CREATED FOLLOWING WORLD TRADE CENTER TRAGEDY



A Brent Woodall Memorial Scholarship Fund has been established to honor the former Cal tight end who died in the attacks on New York's World Trade Center on September 11, 2001. The scholarship will provide funding for future student-athletes to play Cal football.

Woodall was working as a stock trader on the 89th floor of the South Tower when the building was hit. He was a four-year letterman at Cal (1988-91) and a key member of the '91 squad that finished ranked No. 8 in the nation after a 10-2 record and a Citrus Bowl victory over Clemson. He completed his career with 55 receptions for 646 yards and four touchdowns.

Contributions to the Woodall Scholarship should be made out to the U.C. Regents/Brent Woodall Memorial Scholarship Fund and mailed to Bear Backers, University of California Athletic Department, 195 Haas Pavilion, Berkeley, CA 94720.

Sherman White had played little football before coming to Berkeley as a sophomore in 1969. In his second year with the team (1970), he sacked opponent quarterbacks 18 times, including Heisman Trophy winner Jim Plunkett twice in the Big Game. He also knocked down five passes, made 44 unassisted tackles and aided in 31 others. He was named first team All-Coast and All-Pac-8. As a team captain in 1971, he earned All-American honors, as well as All-Pac-8 recognition for the second straight year, when he registered 75 tackles and three pass breakups. White was the second pick overall in the 1972 NFL Draft by Cincinnati and played four seasons for the Bengals (1972-75) before playing eight more campaigns with the Buffalo Bills (1976-83) to round out his career.

JERROTT WILLARD (2016)

One of the most prolific tacklers in Cal history, Willard was a two-time first-team All-Pac- linebacker who paced the Bears in tackles four straight seasons from 1991-94. When he completed his career, he had set a school record with 54.0 tackles for loss (since broken) and stood third all-time with 469 total tackles. He accumulated 147 tackles as a junior and 133 as a senior – both of which rank among Cal's single-season top 10. Willard posted 22 tackles vs. USC in 1993 – a number no Bear has surpassed since. The Bears' team captain as a senior, he was a two-time team MVP who played on a pair of bowl-winning squads – the 1991 club that went 10-2 and beat Clemson, 37-13, in the Citrus Bowl and the 1993 team that posted a 9-4 mark and downed Iowa, 37-3, in the Alamo Bowl. He returned an interception 61 yards for a score in the contest vs. Iowa. Following his Cal career, Willard was taken in the fifth round of the NFL Draft by the Kansas City Chiefs.

ARLEIGH WILLIAMS (2004)

Williams starred in both football and baseball in the 1930s and earned first team All-American notice as a senior halfback in 1934. Williams finished his career with 1,404 yards on 526 carries. Williams lettered on the 1934 and 1935 Cal baseball teams, with both clubs finishing first in the conference and combining for a 45-15-1 record during that period.

RAY WILLSEY (2014)

A quarterback and defensive halfback for the Golden Bears under head coach Pappy Waldorf, Willsey helped Cal to an 8-2 record and No. 12 ranking in 1951 and to a 7-3 mark in 1952. In the 1952 Big Game, he stepped in at quarterback after an injury to the starter and led the Bears to a 26-0 win. Willsey returned to his alma mater and served as Cal's head coach from 1964-71, overseeing the program during a tumultuous period in the school's history that included the Free Speech Movement and wartime protests. Still, Willsey was able to hold the team together and produced a record of 40-42-1 over eight seasons. In 1968, he oversaw the famed "Bear Minimum" defense, leading Cal to a 7-3-1 record – the only Cal team to win at least seven games from 1951-75. Among the star players he coached were All-Americans Craig Morton, Ed White and Sherman White. Following his tenure at Cal, Willsey won two Super Bowl titles on the staff of the Raiders. Willsey, recipient of the 2002 Glenn Seaborg Award for outstanding career contributions by a Cal football player, passed away in November of 2013 at age 85.

JACK YERMAN (1994)

Yerman lettered as a running back in 1957 and 1958, helping Cal to a 1959 Rose Bowl appearance in his senior season. On the track, he was one of the top quarter-milers in the nation, running a best of 46.0 in the 400 meters. Yerman won an Olympic gold medal as part of the U.S. 1600-meter relay team in 1960 and also competed as an individual in the 400. He finished third in the NCAA 440 yards in 1958.

THIS IS CAL

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA
Berkeley, California

THE UNIVERSITY

Founded in the wake of the gold rush by leaders of the newly established 31st state, the University of California's flagship campus at Berkeley has become one of the preeminent universities in the world. Its early guiding lights, charged with providing education (both "practical" and "classical") for the state's people, gradually established a distinguished faculty (with 22 Nobel laureates to date, inlcuding seven current faculty), a stellar research library, and 277 academic degree programs.

This California institution became a catalyst of economic growth and social innovation – the place where vitamin E was discovered, a lost Scarlatti opera found, the flu virus identified, and the nation's first no-fault divorce law drafted. Scholars at Cal have conducted ground-breaking research on urban street gangs and on basic human nutritional requirements, identified why wartime supply ships were failing at sea, invented technologies to build faster and cheaper computer chips, and imaged the infant universe.

In recognition of broad and deep excellence, respected sources have repeatedly ranked the University at or near the top in fields ranging from engineering and the "hard" sciences to the social sciences, arts and humanities. For the 19th straight year, Cal was ranked No. 1 in the latest U.S. News & World Report rankings of public national universities. Among undergraduate programs ranked by peer academics, Cal is tied for second in business, and third in engineering.

In accordance with the University's "public" character, Cal has long served talented individuals regardless of means. As early as 1897, financial aid was available for "needy and deserving" students. More than a century later, Cal combines outstanding teaching and research programs with broad access for students of all means – educating more federal Pell Grant recipients from low-income families than all eight Ivy League universities combined, and second only to UCLA nationally. Seventeen percent of freshmen are the first in their families to attend college.

CAMPUS ADMINISTRATION

NICHOLAS B. DIRKS

UNIVERSITY CHANCELLOR

Nicholas B. Dirks is Chancellor of the University of California, Berkeley. Prior to Berkeley, he served as Executive Vice President and Dean of the Faculty at Columbia University, where, in addition to his work on behalf of undergraduate programs, he improved and diversified the faculty, putting special emphasis on interdisciplinary and international initiatives. He also served as chair of the anthropology department at Columbia. Prior to his appointment at Columbia, he was a professor of history and anthropology at the University of Michigan. He is the author of several books on South Asian history and culture and the impact of British colonial rule, including The Hollow Crown: Ethnohistory of an Indian Kingdom, Castes of Mind, and Scandal of Empire. He published a new volume of essays on a wide range of topics in his 2015 Autobiography of an Archive. His current projects concern the last years of British rule in India and the growing role of the United States in South Asia, as well as the global and technological environment for higher education in the century ahead. He was elected a Fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences in 2014.

BOB JACOBSEN

FACULTY REPRESENTATIVE

Bob Jacobsen, a Professor of Physics, serves as Cal's faculty athletics representative.

Appointed to the position in 2010, Jacobsen provides oversight and advice to Cal Athletics concerning compliance with NCAA rules and student-athlete academic matters. He represents Cal in dealings with both the NCAA and the Pac-12, and advises the chancellor on campus policies relating to student-athletes.

Jacobsen spent 1976 through 1986 working in the computer and data communications industry for a small company that was successively bought out by larger and larger companies before he returned to graduate school. From 1991-94, he was a scientific associate and scientific staff member at CERN, the European Laboratory for Nuclear Physics, in Geneva, Switzerland. He joined the faculty at Cal in 1995.

Among Jacobsen's honors at the University are its Distinguished Teaching Award, the Noyce Prize for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching, the Goldman Award for Distinguished Faculty Advising of Undergraduates and the Berkeley Faculty Service Award. He has delivered lectures on his research activities on four continents and taught special classes for graduate students at 16 universities. During the 2016-17 academic year, he is serving as the interim Dean for Undergraduate Studies in the College of Letters and Science.

Jacobsen's research has studied the basic properties of the Universe using the techniques of particle physics. Upon arrival at Berkeley he joined the BaBar experiment, a worldwide collaboration of more than 500 scientists and engineers who built a device to study the fundamental interactions of matter and antimatter. During its run from 1999-2006, the experiment accumulated the world's largest sample of particles for studying the intrinsic difference between matter and antimatter.

His current project, the LUX collaboration, is using a detector 4,800 feet underground in the Homestake Mine in South Dakota to study dark matter, which comprises the majority of the Universe yet is largely unknown.

Jacobsen obtained a B.S.E.E. from MIT in 1978 and his Ph.D. in experimental high-energy physics from Stanford in 1991.

ATHLETICS EXECUTIVES

MICHAEL WILLIAMS
DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Bringing a comprehensive knowledge and a deep understanding of the campus and its community through a range of perspectives, H. Michael Williams '82 serves as Director of Athletics at the University of California, Berkeley.

Williams' experiences at Cal range from being a member of the wrestling team as an undergraduate student to nearly 15 years of volunteer service for a variety of campus initiatives and programs. He held the title of Interim Director of Athletics for 11 months starting in June 2014, before Chancellor Nicholas Dirks removed the interim portion of his title on May 8, 2015.

"Ultimately, our goal is to build the strongest intercollegiate athletics department possible while furthering the right conditions for success," Williams said. "Our priorities are to support our teams in their quest to compete for and win championships; continue to improve our student-athletes' everyday experience and find more ways to better integrate student-athletes and staff with the campus. We will also keep our focus on building and growing the department in the right direction. My expectations are high and I expect nothing short of a strong, positive and collective effort from everyone involved. We have the opportunity to coach, teach and mentor a world-class, amazing group of student-athletes and make sure they are well prepared to face and change the world following their experience here at Cal."

In addition, Williams will focus on continuing to manage the department through the current NCAA reform, fostering a culture of philanthropy and capitalizing on current and future significant revenue generation opportunities.

Over the course of his first two years at the helm overseeing an athletic department that supports the everyday experience for 850 student-athletes and 30 intercollegiate programs, Golden Bears teams captured national championships in women's swimming & diving, rugby 15s and 7s, men's and women's crew, and women's indoor tennis. Cal placed 11th in the annual Directors' Cup standings in 2016, the 17th consecutive year the Bears have been among the top 20. In addition, a record 13 of 25 measured intercollegiate athletic teams from California posted scores of 1,000 – the highest possible – on their 2014-15 Academic Progress Rates.

Williams began his professional career at Data Resources, Inc., before becoming a debt trader and corporate finance officer for Bank of America. He joined Barclays Global Investors in 1993 and retired from the company in 2009 as vice chair of Capital Markets. Other roles at BGI included head of the Global Index and Markets Group, where he was directly responsible for over $1.1 trillion in assets, head of Global Securities Lending and CEO, President and Trustee of BGI's mutual funds.

Williams was elected to the UC Berkeley Foundation Board of Trustees in 2007, joined the Foundation's Executive Committee in 2009 and served as vice chair of the executive committee from 2013-15. He is also on the advisory boards of the UC Berkeley Division of Equity and Inclusion, the Haas Socially Responsible Investment Fund, the College of Letters and Science, the Social Science Matrix, Bronze Investments and several nonprofit boards, including the California Heritage Trust. He is also a former member of the executive board of the College of Letters and Science.

Additionally, Williams served as an active member of the Chancellor's Task Force on Academics and Athletics that issued its report in September 2014 with more than 50 wide-ranging recommendations intended to maximize the academic performance of student-athletes and the overall quality of their campus experience.

"Mike's deep experience with the management and financial operations of complex organizations and an equally deep level of knowledge about an engagement with our university are clearly invaluable assets in his new position," Dirks said. "As a result, he is also well prepared and equipped to help Cal Athletics successfully navigate through a period of change, challenge and opportunity as the NCAA and the Pac-12 Conference move to address issues related to student-athletes' status, welfare and academic performance."

Among his responsibilities as Director of Athletics are serving on the Pac-12 Athletic Directors' Council, the Chancellor's Executive Leadership Council, the Campus Leadership Council at UC Berkeley and, since January 2015, as a member of the Athletic Study Center Review Committee. He is also Vice President of the Pac-12 Athletic Directors Committee.

"Mike understands, on both a human and organizational level, the unique set of interests, needs and challenges that must be addressed so that our exceptional student-athletes can thrive on the field of play and take full advantage of the educational opportunities our university offers," Dirks said. "He shares our conviction that as university administrators and educators it is our responsibility to provide all that our students need to realize their full potential and to take advantage of the incredible educational, cultural and experiential opportunities that Berkeley offers."

Williams earned his bachelor's degree in economics in 1982. He later received an MBA in finance from the Anderson School of Management at UCLA in 1988. He and his wife, Jeanne, have three children and reside in Lafayette.

Cal placed 11th in the final 2015-16 Directors' Cup standings, finishing fifth among Pac-12 schools. The Pac-12 ranked first for the most schools in the Top 10 with four. Cal has finished in the Top 20 every year since 2000.

Cal totaled 966.00 points for the year, nearly 30 points better than last season. Stanford came in first with 1,526.50 points. The other three Pac-12 schools in the Top 20 were No. 4 USC (1,196.25), No. 6 UCLA (1,091.50), No. 10 Oregon (973.75) and No. 14 Washington (951.50). The Pac-12 had seven schools in the Top 25 with Arizona finishing 25th (740.75).

Five Golden Bear teams with points counting towards the standings ended the year among the top five in the country, led by the national champion women's crew team and the women's tennis team that won the ITA Indoor Championship. Men's swimming & diving and women's tennis finished second, while women's swimming & diving and men's water polo finished third.

Five other Cal squads finished in the top 10 – women's water polo, women's gymnastics, men's tennis, men's gymnastics and men's golf.

The Directors' Cup was developed as a joint effort between the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) and USA Today. Points are awarded based on each institution's finish in up to 20 sports sponsored by the NCAA – 10 women's and 10 men's. The Bears do not receive points for men's crew or rugby because they are not NCAA-sponsored sports.

TRADITIONS & SPIRIT

BEARENTS

Initiated in the fall of 1986, Cal Bearents has grown from an idea of six people into an organization numbering in the hundreds. Proud moms, dads, siblings, aunts, uncles, cousins, grandparents, in-laws and friends all gather together to share the Cal football experience with the players.

Because no one understands the triumphs and tribulations in a student-athlete's season as thoroughly as family and friends do, all Bearents share a special bond. Regardless of whether their player plays in a starring or supporting role, Bearents consistently provide a network of support for the players and each other. In addition to extending an open invitation for all players to join family and friends for postgame barbecues after each home game, Bearents also participate in and coordinate various other events throughout the year with Cal alumni and Bear Backers.

BIG C

The Big C is located on Charter Hill above Memorial Stadium and was constructed in 1905 by the classes of 1907 and 1908. The road up to the Big C was built in 1916 by the male members of the Cal student body in three-and-a-half hours, using 2,000 picks and shovels that were donated by the Southern Pacific Railroad. The Rally Committee became the custodians and guardians of the Big C sometime after 1952. Since then, the Committee has been in charge of painting the C and protecting it from vandalism.

THE BIG GAME

The Big Game held annually between Cal and Stanford is tied for the sixth-longest active running series in college football and tied for the eighth-longest series overall with the 119th edition to be played at Kabam Field at California Memorial Stadium in 2016. The Stanford Axe is a trophy awarded to the winner.

Included in The Big Game tradition is "The Play," which was a five-lateral, 57-yard kickoff return with no time remaining that lifted Cal to a 25-20 victory in the 1982 Big Game and considered by many to be the most famous play in the history of college football.

For more information on The Big Game, visit page 83.

BLUE AND GOLD

Official colors of the University of California were established at Berkeley in 1868. The colors were chosen by the University's founders, who were mostly Yale men who had come West. They selected gold as a color representing the "Golden State" of California. The blue was selected from Yale blue. Cal teams have donned the blue and gold since the beginning of intercollegiate athletic competition in 1882.

CAL BAND

The University of California Marching Band has been a tradition for over 125 years, exemplifying many of the best aspects of student life at one of the nation's most prestigious public universities. It boasts over 200 members, a student-run management and a unique high-step marching style, all of which combine to make it one of the most singular bands of its kind.

Formed as the R.O.T.C. Cadet Band in 1889, the Cal Band adopted its present name in 1923. It has performed across the country and around the world at such events as the Brussels World Fair in 1958, Expo '70 in Japan and a Bicentennial Tour of the United States in 1976. In 1980, the Band took to the stage with the San Francisco Ballet. It was the official state band for the city's welcome to Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip of Great Britain in 1983, and it performed during the halftime show at Super Bowl 50 held at Levi's Stadium in Santa Clara, Calif.

CAL SPIRIT GROUPS

The Cal Spirit groups are responsible for promoting all spirit-related activities and are active at home events, as well as many away contests. They act as ambassadors of the University by assisting with alumni functions, fundraising events and other occasions .

The Rally Committee, the oldest student group on campus, upholds school spirit and tradition. Above and beyond producing all rallies on campus, Rally Com is responsible for maintaining the Big C, displaying the California banner, the Cal flags, and constructing and executing card stunts at football games. Cal Cheerleading is an integral part of Cal Spirit. You can see the cheerleaders at all football games, men's and women's basketball, volleyball and other events.

The Cal Dance Team dances to traditional Cal fight songs and Cal Band rock songs. During the football season, they perform on a platform that is elevated off the football field. They participate as well in various rallies, alumni and community events.

Cal Mic Men are student leaders of the rooting sections at all Cal sporting events. In addition, they emcee at rallies, alumni and community events.

CALIFORNIA LETTERMAN'S CLUB

Cal's football alumni association, the California Letterman's Club, is an active organization that supports the Golden Bear football program. Formerly known as the Sons of California, the group was created several years ago to continue the relationships that were forged on the football field. Each year, the Letterman's Club has a reunion at a home game and holds a fundraising golf tournament in the spring. In addition, the club sponsors a reception at the end of the year for graduating football players and honor a deserving alumnus with the Glenn T. Seaborg Award named for the renowned Nobel laureate and former University of California chancellor.

CALIFORNIA VICTORY CANNON

The California Victory Cannon was presented to the Rally Committee in time for the 1963 Big Game by the class of 1964. At home games in Berkeley, it is shot off at the beginning of each game, after each score and after each Cal victory. Only once, against Pacific on Sept. 7, 1991, did the Bears score too many times, racking up 12 touchdowns before the cannon ran out of ammunition. The cannon, which was originally kept on the sidelines, has been mounted on Tightwad Hill above Memorial Stadium since 1971. In 2011, the cannon was present for home games at AT&T Park but was not fired due to clearance regulations.

CARD STUNTS

The Cal student section, located at the 50-yard line on the east side of the stadium, is credited with establishing one of the most time-honored traditions in college football with its card stunt performances. Cal began this activity for the 1910 "Big Game," a rugby match between Cal and Stanford. The original stunts performed that afternoon depicted the Stanford Axe and a big blue "C" formed on a white background.

The tradition has been a crowd favorite at Memorial Stadium as several times each season Cal students perform as many as 10 different stunts, using more than 5,000 cards. The painstaking process of plotting the positions of the cards, which once took days to complete, is now aided by computers that add to the precision of the images produced in the card section.

GOLDEN BEARS

In 1895, the California track and field team was the dominant power on the West Coast and decided to challenge several of the top teams in the Midwest and East on an eight-meet tour that is now credited by many historians as putting Cal Athletics onto the national scene. As a symbol of the University, regent Arthur Rodgers, class of 1872, commissioned a blue silk banner emblazoned with a golden grizzly bear, the symbol of the state of California. The banner was carried by the team on its successful tour, which saw them win five of the eight competitions. Cal fans were so ecstatic over the team's performance that professor Charles Mills Gayley was inspired to write the song "The Golden Bear." Cal teams have been known as the Golden Bears ever since.

MARCH TO VICTORY

Cal began a new tradition in the fall of 2002 with the March to Victory. Approximately two-and-a-half hours before kickoff of each home game, the Spirit Groups form a human tunnel on the grand staircase just outside the north tunnel of Memorial Stadium to cheer on the team as it exits the buses to march into the locker room.

OSKI

The official Cal mascot, Oski has been a tradition at the school since making his debut during the 1941 football season. Prior to his arrival, live mascots were used at Memorial Stadium with varying degrees of success. It was decided in 1940 that a costumed mascot would make a more suitable alternative to a live bear. Oski's identity is unknown to everyone, with the exception of the committee. Oski will celebrate his 75th birthday in 2016.

TRADITIONS & SPIRIT

PAPPY'S BOYS

Founded in 1986, Pappy's Boys is an organization of more than 500 former Golden Bears who played under legendary Cal football coach Lynn "Pappy" Waldorf. Not only does the group get together to relive the success of the Cal teams during the Waldorf era, but it also supports the current program in many ways. Recent efforts include establishing a $400,000 endowment for football scholarships and raising funds for two of the most recent additions to campus statuary: Waldorf kneeling near Faculty Glade and the giant grizzly bear by Memorial Stadium. Waldorf compiled a 67-32-4 record as head coach at Cal from 1947-56. For the 1948-50 seasons, Waldorf guided the Bears to a 39-3-1 record and three consecutive Rose Bowls. He was inducted into the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame in 1966 and into the Cal Athletic Hall of Fame in 1987. In the late 1990s, Pappy's Boys produced a book, "Pappy's Boys, The Rose Bowl Years: A Legacy of Winning," which was edited by Sports Illustrated writer Ron Fimrite and produced by former Cal quarterback Dick Erickson. In the spring of 2015, the group unveiled the Lynn O. Waldorf Seating Area and Pappy's Bench by Gate 4 at Memorial Stadium. The area of rest, contemplation and gathering, a gift of Pappy's Boys in memory of Cal's coach and mentor, is dedicated to Golden Bear student-athletes. It recognizes their pursuit of excellence in academics, athletics and life.

SONGS OF CAL

While through the years Cal has collected numerous songs that are popular with its alumni and fans alike, two songs are regularly heard during the team's football games. Those songs include the familiar fight song entitled "Big C," a brisk marching tune composed by N.S. McLaren and H.P. Williams of the class of 1914. The other is the Cal alma mater, "Hail to California," written and composed by Clinton R. "Brick" Morse, class of 1896.

TIGHTWAD HILL

For decades, enterprising Cal fans have hiked to Tightwad Hill high above the northeast corner of Memorial Stadium. Not only does the perch provide a free look at the action on the field, but it also offers a spectacular view of San Francisco Bay and many of the area bridges to the west.

HAIL TO CALIFORNIA

Hail to California, Alma Mater Dear
Sing the joyful chorus, Sound it far and near.
Rallying 'round her banner, We will never fail.
California Alma Mater, Hail! Hail! Hail!

BIG C

California!
On our rugged Eastern foothills, stands
our symbol clear and bold.
Big C means to fight and strive and win for
Blue and Gold.
Golden Bear is ever watching. Day by day
he prowls.
And when he hears the tread of lowly
Stanford Red, from his lair he fiercely growls!

Since it opened in the fall of 1923, Kabam Field at California Memorial Stadium has produced scores of unforgettable memories for generations of Golden Bears. From the Wonder Teams of the 1920s to the Pappy Waldorf years mid-century to the recent success under Sonny Dykes, the facility has treated fans of all ages to many of the greatest moments in the history of Cal football. It stands as one of the most enduring symbols of the University of California campus and has served as a gathering point for students, alumni, faculty, staff and other supporters for nearly 90 years. Now in its fifth season following a $321 million renovation that brought the historic building up to modern standards, the Sonny Dykes era continues in an enojoyable environment for the hundreds of thousands of people who visit and partake in games every year – all while maintaining the architecture and character of the celebrated stadium.

Founded in the wake of the gold rush by leaders of the newly established 31st state, the University of California's flagship campus at Berkeley has become one of the preeminent universities in the world.

CALIFORNIA FOOTBALL TRADITIONS

The Big C has stood proud on Charter Hill above California Memorial Stadium since 1905.

The Big Game held annually between Cal and Stanford is tied for the sixth-longest active running series in college football and tied for the eighth-longest series overall with the 119th edition to be played at Kabam Field at California Memorial Stadium in 2016. The Stanford Axe is a trophy awarded to the winner.

The official colors of the University of California were established at Berkeley in 1868 and chosen by the University's founders. Cal teams have donned the blue and gold since 1882.

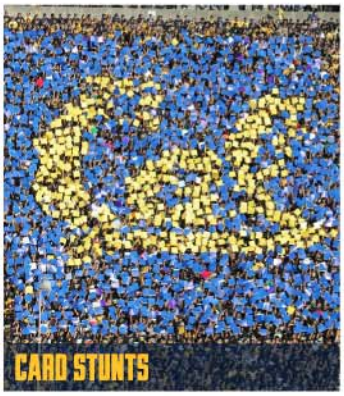
The California Marching Band has been one of the best bands in the nation for over 125 years.

Cal Spirit Groups are responsible for promoting all spirit-related activities at home events with the Rally Committee the oldest student group on campus.

The Cal student section is at the 50-yard line and among the loudest, most boisterous and enthusiastic in the nation.

The California Letterman's Club serves as the football alumni association and was formerly known as the Sons of California.

The California Victory Cannon presented by the Rally Committee in 1963 is fired at the beginning of every home game, each time the Golden Bears score and after every home win.



The Cal rooting section is credited with establishing card student performances beginning with the 1910 Big Game, a rugby match between Cal and Stanford.

The Cal track and field team carried a blue silk banner emblazoned with a golden grizzly bear, the symbol of the state of California, on a historic eight-meet tour throughout the Midwest and East in 1985 that many historians credit for putting Cal Athletics on the national scene. Professor Charles Mills Gayley was inspired to write the song "The Golden Bear" and Cal athletic teams have been known as the Golden Bears ever since.

Cal began a new tradition in 2002 with March To Victory, a human tunnel comprised of fans and the Cal Spirit Groups who greet the team upon their arrival outside of California Memorial Stadium.

Oski has been Cal's official mascot since 1941.

Pappy's Boys is an organization of more than 500 former Cal football players who played under legendary coach Lynn "Pappy" Waldorf. The group has raised funds for three of the most recent additions to campus – Waldorf kneeling near Faculty Glade, a giant grizzly bear by Memorial Stadium and the most recent last year with the installation of the Pappy's Boys Bench outside of Gate 4.

The two songs regularly heard during Cal football games are "Big C" and "Hail to California".

The Play is a five-lateral, 57-yard kickoff return with no time remaining that lifted Cal to a 25-20 victory in the 1982 Big Game and considered by many to be the most famous play in the history of college football.
